Complete timeline

This is a complete timeline of all actions and statements from the moment Ren stopped working on the game until I terminated the connection. Ren's document contains numerous accusations and highly biased interpretations, all of which I can refute with documentation and explanations that place events in their proper context. If you primarily want to see what actually happened regarding the alleged incident, you may press the link below.

Ren quit her job

> I quit working on his game due to psychological abuse and being overworked back during Summer 2025. I was manipulated into believing I was in the wrong for quitting, and it was framed as me "forcing him to fire me". I was blocked by the team, exiled from all servers, and told I was too unstable and a liability to be around. Not long after, he decided we should reconnect. He befriended me again for his own benefit, conditioned me to not think too much of physical contact, and took his chances to get me alone with him.

- When Ren quit, it was in a group chat with 1 of her friends. The way it came off to me was Ren berating their work, saying how they were an awful person, etc. It felt like Ren wanted to be fired in order to quit working, without the need to resign on her own accord.
- As I had left this groupchat, I do not have screenshots

At the time of our sexual encounter, Ren was not employed by me. She had left on her own accord 4 months earlier in May 2025. This was done in a group chat that I no longer have access to.
[(*) As of the writing of this document, you may find a tweet on Ren's account that she sent in May saying that she left on her own accord.]
HOWEVER! At the time, Ren was still receiving a group payout. Even though Ren had left, I still wished for her to be compensated accordingly for the music she had made for the update which released in June. As such, I decided to keep them on group % until the next update, which released on Sept 12th. Ren was informed of this before RDC, and initially thought that she had remained on % for licensing. [(*) Screenshots cannot be provided, these were in DM's with another composer, as they were taking over Ren's position. It was forwarded to me by them using Discord's "Forward" feature.]
It was clarified to her that they were left on % so she could receive proper pay for her work, and she would be removed from it on the day of our next update, Operation: Heartburn.
[(*) Screenshots cannot be provided, these were in DM's with the new composer. This was also forwarded.]

Her screenshots are not dated but it is from the time she quit her job in May 2025

Earlier Signs I Failed To Name At The Time

These screenshots are older, but I'm including them here because they matter in hindsight. I didn't fully understand what pattern I was inside at the time. I made excuses for public humiliation, cruelty, and the way he talked about me to other people. Looking back now, I see these moments differently. They were not random. They were warning signs.

He explicitly said he didn't want to "close the door fully" on me and wanted to keep "a foot in the door." That's what I was to him. Not a person he cared about. Access he wanted to keep open for later.

Okay so I wasn't aware Ren was dead set on leaving pressure until today but we talked abt it a lil bit n they said that they'd be cool with me taking on their workload for the music for the game once they wrap up their songs for the upcoming ost release. If that slot's open then I'd be happy to fill in for them! your call tho obvs
I direct a project of my own so I kinda know how this whole thing works n shit beyond just music lol

I dont want to close the door fully on them yet
Incase he changes his mind, im gonna keep a foot in the door
He was supposed to take a 6 month break, as after this update, we wouldnt need music for that long
But if he doesnt change his mind within a few months, yea id be down

- I "kept a foot in the door" in case Ren changed her mind, because I wanted Ren to have a stable source of income, and because I was sad to see her quit.

This is the environment around him. Everyone is replaceable. Anyone can be discarded. That wasn't abstract to me. That was how he treated me too.

R E N NULL 12/05/2025 00:38

All I know is I feel extremely sad when I see them and start crying that's all and That's why I don't wanna see them
I don't hate them
I'm suddenly crying now just saying it
Zeal NOST 12/05/2025 00:40
hmm
R E N NULL 12/05/2025 00:46
U asked me many times why and maybe i never rly explained it well
Basically sometimes I just tend to feel rly attached to someone who's rly nice to me and gives me so much attention and [redacted] was extremely nice
And I hated the fact I started getting attached cuz it's weird so I start crying at the idea of rejection so I distance myself to protect my dumb ass heart from being torn apart every time
And I don't know if this is some traumatic reaction from a lot of shit I went through over time but I can't seem to be able to pull myself together I just crumble when it comes to shit like that
Zeal NOST 12/05/2025 00:46

R E N NULL 12/05/2025 00:49
That's the normal part
What's not normal is crying over what can't be yours constantly crashing out and throwing up and wanting to die
That is not healthy
So I attempted to make [redacted] hate me cuz I thought it would be easier to distance myself from them
So I said a lot of mean things to them
I have a crush on almost all my friends tbh but somehow it hasn't been a problem for a while it's only been [redacted] that I've gotten sick over for some reason
I hate myself I hate my brain so much
Constantly ruining my friendships and running away from people
Burning bridges as you say
@R E N NULL I have a crush on almost all my friends tbh but somehow it hasn't been a problem for a while it's only been [redacted] that I've gotten sick over for some reason

this rules
but yeah
dont worry about that stuff
having crushes on nice people is normal its basic human nature
and being sad that u cant be with someone is also normal human nature dont beat urself up about being human
R E N NULL 12/05/2025 00:53
It's like my stupid brain just goes "maybe I can finally find someone nice enough to chill with and not be hurt by and fucked up and destroyed by now.."
Once a guy told me he loved me and I believed it like a dumbass then he used me to as a stunt to show off to his ex that he moved on from them to tease them then threw me out and went back for them when he was done taunting them for their own fun
And the most recent relationship a guy told me he was gonna kill me if I left him
I'm always somehow getting into shitty situations with ppl when I think "oh this person is cool" cuz I'm a fucking dumbass
I guess I'm just really scared and confused
I didn't think I was ever gonna open up this deep and cry so hard but here I am ig
It just feels better to just say shit at this point instead of constantly looking like a weirdo who's making no sense at all like grrr I hate them I hate them grrr I'm evil I'm fucking evil I hate them

Ren: “Constantly ruining my friendships and running away from people.

R E N NULL 12/05/2025 01:00
I'm nothing but a lonely loser who cries himself to sleep after a long day at school and tortures himself over his friendships
I shit talked [redacted] and I'm feeling awful about it
I do mean things that I don't mean
I say mean cruel things that I don't mean
Because I'm weak
Looking at u and all the cool connections you form it's inspiring because how do you talk to all those big people I can never
I am so bad at connecting with people and talking and just sounding normal
Zeal NOST 12/05/2025 01:10
The thing is like
I dont really like
know how I can help you with this specifically
This is just something that i havent had experience with like, not the having crushes part ive always been able to see a crush as like, just that like, "oh, this person is nice, but they live a million miles from me so thats not happening.", and then I move on Its like
Its like seeing a pretty person in the street
Theyre pretty, you want their number, but you dont ask them and move on online crushes should be treated that way
[redacted] is pretty, but they live across the planet, so u cant date them and then u move on
I cant give you any advice on this, cuz thats just the only thing you can do [redacted] isnt gonna hate you for having a crush on them btw like at most, people will go
"oh thats cool" and then feel confident about someone liking them
[redacted] isnt gonna go "oh that sucks that you have a crush on me, fuck you!" just because you have a crush on them so u shouldnt be crying about it like most people like it when someone has a crush on them makes them feel pretty/nice/whatever so dont beat yourself up about it
@R E N NULL I shit talked [redacted] and I'm feeling awful about it
Zeal NOST 12/05/2025 01:14

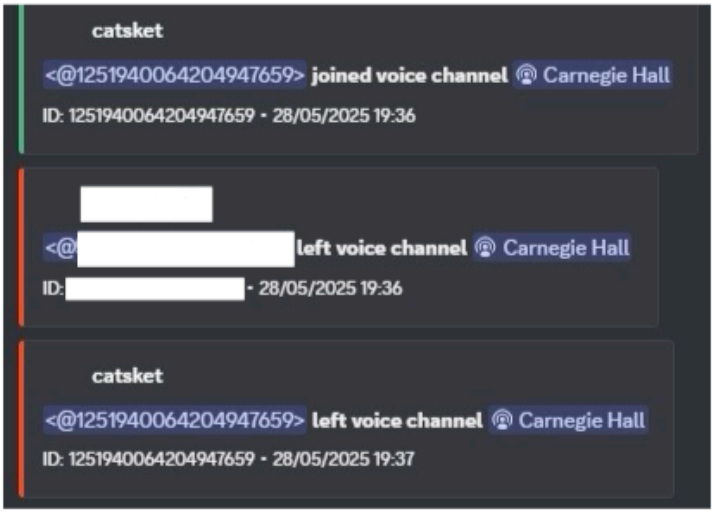
Breaking her NDA

On the Framing That Followed

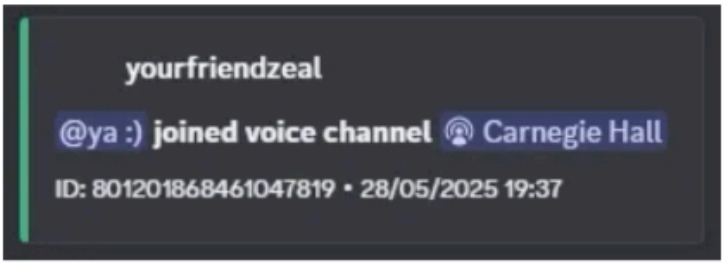
This encounter was later framed by them as me harassing them.

I want to be precise about what that framing does. I approached them once, in a public space, to try to apologize and clear the air. That is not harassment. Calling it harassment flips who was in distress and who was being unkind. It gave them a victim position they did not earn from that interaction, and it gave people a reason to dismiss anything I might later say about how I was treated.

And with Zerum specifically, it fits a pattern. I say this from observation, NOT hatred. Once during a Stage stream, I was in FL Studio. Kat briefly joined Stage and caught a bit of the OST. They did not reach out to me. They went to Zerum. Who then reported it to Zeal. He entered the Stage with 11 people and yelled at me. Shortly afterwards, Zerum and Kat unfriended me. Zerum had already blocked me, removed me from her server, and decided I was unstable, all before I ever had a problem with her. She hated me first, the coldness at RDC was not a surprise.



May 28, 2025, log of Kat joining and leaving Stage within a minute.



May 28, 2025, log of Zeal immediately joining the Stage to berate me.

- They “framed” it as harassment, as they had tried to get Ren to leave them alone multiple times.
- The Stream in question was Ren streaming NDA music. I only yelled at her because she had done so multiple times before, and I was getting annoyed that she wouldn’t stop showcasing yet-to-be-revealed music, despite me joining to tell her to stop doing so multiple times.

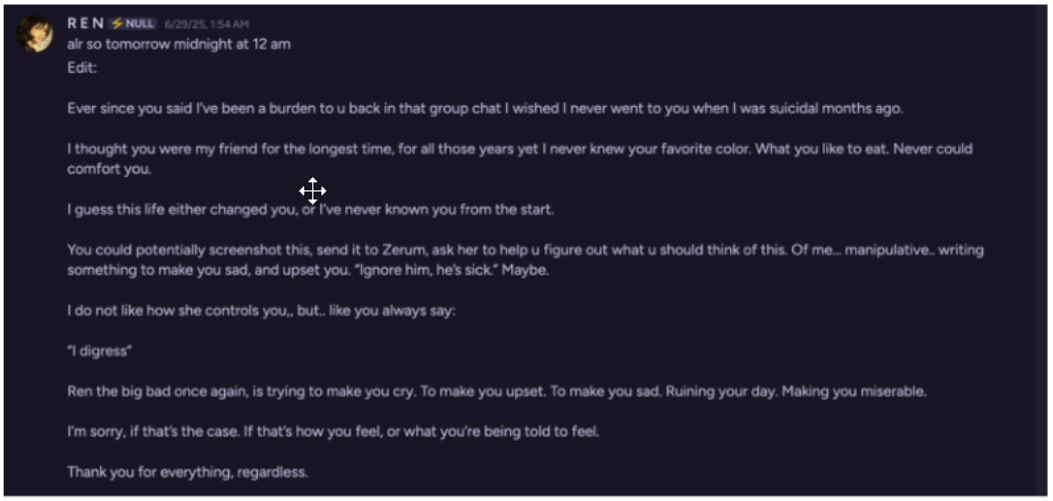
August 11, 2025 : Re-engagement, Re-connection, and Access Control



REN ⚡NULL 6/29/25, 1:54 AM

alr so tomorrow midnight at 12 am

Edit:

Ever since you said I've been a burden to u back in that group chat I wished I never went to you when I was suicidal months ago.

I thought you were my friend for the longest time, for all those years yet I never knew your favorite color. What you like to eat. Never could comfort you.

I guess this life either changed you, or I've never known you from the start.

You could potentially screenshot this, send it to Zerum, ask her to help u figure out what u should think of this. Of me... manipulative.. writing something to make you sad, and upset you. "Ignore him, he's sick." Maybe.

I do not like how she controls you,, but.. like you always say:

"I digress"

Ren the big bad once again, is trying to make you cry. To make you upset. To make you sad. Ruining your day. Making you miserable.

I'm sorry, if that's the case. If that's how you feel, or what you're being told to feel.

Thank you for everything, regardless.

"Alr so tomorrow midnight at 12 am" was the timing of when my last album was releasing.

June 29, 2025 : 12 am was the timing of the final album release. My goodbye message to Zeal. August 11th, we connecte back

- I had referred to Ren as a "burden" as it had been extremely mentally exhausting to console her whenever she had a breakdown. Every time I had been there and helped her calm down, she'd spiral again. I am not someone who is well versed in mental health, and her always coming to me was heavily taxing my own mental health.

August 24, 2025 : Coordinating Proximity at RDC

August 30, 2025 (Afternoon) , Gift, Access, "sit on top of me"

I was in a mall shopping for gifts to bring to my friends before my flight. I offer to buy Zeal a gift as well. He deflects, but redirects care by naming someone else (Kat) who likes the same thing I offered, completely ignoring the fact that the connection between the two (I and Kat) was severed a long time ago. Later that same afternoon: the bunny proxy pattern culminates in "yeah u can sit on top of me," followed by him explicitly asking my height.

- I don't like receiving gifts.
- I did, at the time, not know that Ren were not on good terms with Kat.

I ask for her height, not weight

August 30, 2025 : Height, Weight, and the Explicit RDC Plan

Zeal collects my height and weight directly. I answer. He confirms he can carry me. Then states, explicitly and in writing: "thats gonna be me at rdc, pick u up toss u around and kick u a little." He had already decided. He had sourced my physical measurements. He announced his plan. He did not ask.

- I exercise a lot, and am proud of my physical abilities. I was feeling a little prideful, and wanted to flex my strength.

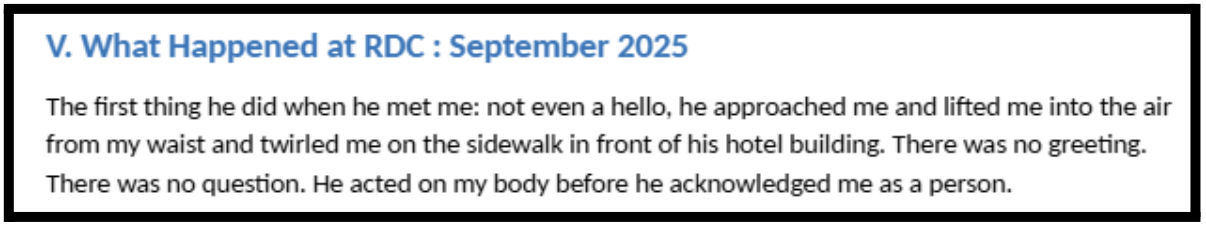
Picking Ren up



V. What Happened at RDC : September 2025
The first thing he did when he met me: not even a hello, he approached me and lifted me into the air from my waist and twirled me on the sidewalk in front of his hotel building. There was no greeting. There was no question. He acted on my body before he acknowledged me as a person.

- I picked Ren up and whirled her around, because she had told me that I was allowed to do that earlier.
- I should have given her a handshake

> September 2, 2025 : The Suite Incident
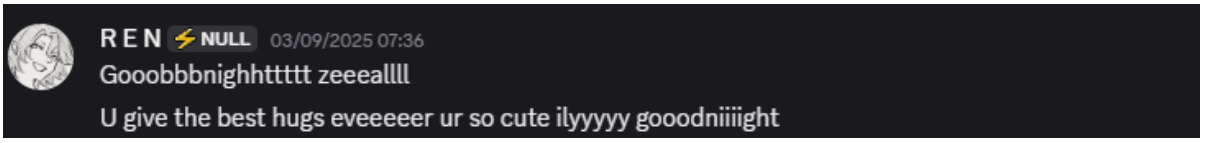
> After spending the day out with mutual friends, the group returns to a suite booked by a friend to hang out. I am sitting on the couch. Zeal places a pillow in his own lap, positions my head on that pillow, and begins playing with my hair.

- I was playing on my phone, not with Ren's hair. Ren was playing with my hair, however.
- When I leave I give her a long hug.



> Zeal then stands up abruptly, says "well goodnight everyone I gotta go," and leaves the suite with noticeable urgency. I did not notice that at the time, but later, during my healing and recollection of the events, the sudden exit after that prolonged physical contact is consistent with him having become physically aroused and needing to leave before it became apparent to others.

- It was 10PM, and I was from a timezone that was 6 hours ahead of America. It would have been 4AM at home, and I wanted to get back to my hotel room, and sleep.

> He wants to repeat physical contact again, it's clear this isn't because it was awkward, but to remove witnesses. His solution is to do it again with fewer people around. He was planning to isolate me with him, while I assumed he was seeking comfort in me.

- I just found it awkward that there were other people present.

> Zeal does not come. Despite repeatedly asking when I would be back and calling me, he does not drive out to meet us. Me and [redacted] ended up feeling bad for him and cut our shopping trip short to go back and pick him up so he could tag along.

- They were 45 minutes away and I don't like driving in cities, much less American ones.

Crying in the lobby

There are not many other people around. Zeal sits in silence for a while. Then he says: "Sssoooo have you found a new job after you quitttt? How's that new Piggy game goin for ya?"

Piggy is a well-known Roblox franchise. I had been asked to work on something under that franchise years prior, under team I2R.

Zeal had previously joked that I was "cheating on him with another game." Now he is asking me about my employment status after I quit working for him. He knows this is a painful conversation for me.

- As I was still concerned about Ren's financial situation, I wanted to know if she had found work yet.
- The cheating comment was a light hearted joke.

I start crying. I tell him I never wanted any of this. That he terrified me. That I thought he was scary but maybe it was all in my head. That I genuinely did not want to work under him because the working relationship had made my friendship feel toxic. I tell him I had started to feel he was abusive. I cannot get all of it out in words, so I cry a lot.

Zeal puts my head in his lap and tells me it's okay. He begins brushing my hair slowly.

- I was hugging her against my chest, not my lap.
- I was trying to console her with physical contact.
- "The playing with my hair" was me caressing her head, also in an effort to console her.

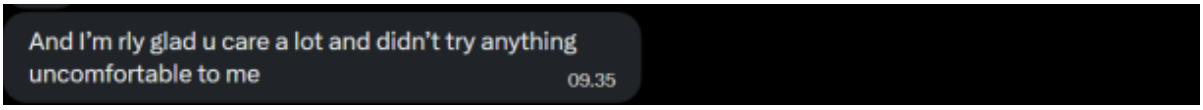
The night at Ren’s hotel

> On the night of September 3rd, 2025, in San Jose, California, two days before RDC began, Zeal, developer of Pressure on Roblox, sexually assaulted me in my hotel room. I had been crying, and he had offered to come to my room to comfort me, and hug me. After over an hour of constant crying, I was emotionally exhausted and completely alone with him. I went limp and nonverbal. I did not consent. He pinned my arms above my head. He did not stop.

- I did not sexually assault Ren. Although we had a sexual encounter, it started when Ren initiated by asking to kiss me, where I then kissed her, followed by us making out with her holding onto me tightly.
- Ren had been crying in the lobby earlier in the day, then messaged me later that night saying that she was crying again. I interpreted that message as her wanting me to comfort her again. I offered to come over, and she agreed.
- I did not “pin her down”, but we did interlock fingers at points. Some of these times, yes, her hands were above her head. The intention was not to pin her down, but to simply hold her hands.

Two weeks later she wrote on Twitter (17th Sep)



I had showered before going to bed

> Zeal arrived at my room. His hair was wet. He had showered before coming. I did not think anything of it at the time. I assumed he had been working out like he usually does and needed to clean up.

- I had taken a shower before bed time after sweating a lot in the hot American weather. I didn’t know at the time that Ren would message me that night.

Comforting Ren

He entered the room saying "hey hey, it's okay.. it's okay." He grabbed me immediately and lifted me into the air. I was crying loudly. He placed me gently onto the bed.

He held me, He put his face in my neck, I cried, I screamed, I vented everything. All the fears, all the pain, everything I had been unable to say in the lobby, everything I had tried to bring up over text and been deflected from. He held me through all of it.

During this, he kept shifting our positions; he moved our bodies in ways that I did not fully register at the time because I was too consumed by the emotional release to process what was physically happening. It was only over a month later that I recognized what those position changes were.

At one point, he wrapped us both inside a blanket like a burrito. I found this comforting. Being cozied up as I cried helped me feel safe. This was my favorite moment.

I screamed in Zeal's ear: "You're so safe, you're so safe." Until my voice gave out.

After a while, calming down, I asked about the others. Cyborg must be waiting for us. We were supposed to have dinner. Zeal told me not to worry about it. He texted Cyborg: "we're ditching." He chose to stay alone with me in my hotel room.

After approximately an hour and a half of constant screaming, venting, and crying, I was spent. Exhausted, I felt limp.

- Once I entered her room, Ren reached out in order to form a hug. We hugged, and I gently lifted her up and laid on her bed.
- It should be noted that:
  I have never interacted with anyone in a way that I've had to calm her down whilst in an active meltdown. Any positions that may have happened were not intended to be sexual. I was trying to calm her down by simply being close to her, as the way she acted, that is what she needed.
- I genuinely wanted to help her calm down, and I didn't know what else to do.

Ren initiated the kiss

After approximately an hour and a half of constant screaming, venting, and crying, I was spent. Exhausted, I felt limp.

That is when it changed.

Zeal lifted my arms and pinned them above my head, slowly, gently. He put his lips on my chin and began breathing heavily.

He became feral. Without warning, he forced his tongue deep into my mouth. I did not understand what was happening, my body felt strange, I was confused. Before I could process, he put his hand inside my shirt and began touching my breast. He kept kissing me. He started undressing me. He flipped me over, he took my bra off. He touched my breasts with both hands, he took his own shirt off.

- There is an important detail that Ren left out:
- After Ren had stopped crying and had calmed down, Ren said. "You should get more comfortable," as I was currently in a very uncomfortable position. Shortly after I had moved around, Ren said the following: "Can I kiss you?" Instead of responding with words, I kissed Ren on the lips. After that, we started making out.

- Ren was smiling, laughing, and giggling when we weren't kissing, so it did not occur to me, nor was there any indication or communication that it was non-consensual.

Twitter conversation 17-25th September

I stopped when she said "it hurts"

> I remember clearly being scared and confused at that specific moment, seeing his bare chest, but there was no time to think, everything was happening too fast.
> He pulled my pants and underwear off, he began fingering me aggressively. It hurt. I told him: "IT HURTS. IT HURTS."

- As above, Ren was laughing and giggling during this.
- I did not finger Ren "aggressively", just poorly. This was my first time with a woman, and I was inexperienced and did not understand everything as well as I should have. I did it slowly, and when she expressed discomfort, I stopped and asked if she was okay.
- I asked if I could try again and she said yes.
- During this, Ren was trying to visually guide me on how to finger her by doing it herself.

> He then began fingering me again with the same finger he had just forced down my throat. It still hurts. I tried to endure it. I could not. I told him again: "It hurts, it hurts, it hurts."

- At no point did I force my finger down Ren's throat. Although my long hair did fall into her mouth at one point, it was accidental.
- Putting fingers in someone's mouth isn't something I find attractive/sexy, and wouldn't have done so unless asked.

That's why that day I told u to get lube but I'm embarrassed by the fact I don't get wet and then u thought it's cuz I don't like u or smthn and I worried even more about my body but yeah it's just my body acts like that :(
Your spit helped a lot tho I didn't think about that being a possibility during that so I was likeee woahhh...

Twitter conversation 17-25th September

- Ren later described to me that she did not get wet because that is how her body acts. She states that she liked me.
- There was spit involved the next day. It was from my mouth - not hers.

> He stopped. He lied down and said: "welp... I'm tired. Guess we are just not into each other."
> When I expressed pain, he did not check on me. He did not ask if I was okay. He made me feel bad about his rejection. He framed my physical distress as a lack of desire for him, which forced me to choose between enduring what was happening or losing him. That is coercion.

- I did say that, but it was more meant in a lighthearted, joking manner, as this was my first time being intimate with a woman.
- I very much did check up on her. I wanted to ensure that she was having a good time as well.

She said she liked me

> I panicked. I began comforting him. I told him I liked him so much. That I had always liked him. That it was just me, that I was a little broken sometimes, that my body does not always work. I told him I was trying. I was trying.

- This is true, she did say that. With previous conversations in the past about having crushes on each other, I believed it.
- I also understood that certain bodily functions (natural lubrication) not working was natural, and reassured her multiple times that it was nothing to be embarrassed over.

I put my pants back on when asked

> He got up. He stood in front of the bed. He took his pants and boxers off, exposing himself.
> I put my hand up and yelled: “NO NO NO DONT NO.”
> He put them back on immediately.
> I, terrified of making him feel rejected, immediately reversed: “NO NO NO I’M SORRY. YOU ALREADY TOOK IT OFF. I SAW IT. IT’S OKAY IT’S OKAY I DIDN’T MEAN IT.”
> He took them off again. He lay in front of me and said something to the effect of: “Welp… this is my penis!”

- This is partly true, but the quotes here are misrepresented in tone.
- Although Ren said “No”, it was only after I had taken them off. However, it was said in a laughingly embarrassed tone. I covered up immediately, regardless, as this was not something I wanted to proceed with if unconsensual.
- Ren followed up by saying something along the lines of “Wait, isn’t that a bit early?” implying that there was more foreplay needed to work up to that stage.
- I did not say ”Welp… this is my penis!”...

> I was naked in bed. I stared. I did not register what I was supposed to do. I asked: “You want me to touch it? What if it hurts you?” He reassured me it was fine, and I did.
> He did not like it. He told me to try it with my mouth.
> I listened, I obeyed, I was trying as hard as I could to appeal to him so he would not abandon me, so he would not tell me we did not work, so he would not say we were not in love.

- I didn’t like it, because it was a very weird feeling, so I asked her to stop.
- I did not suggest that she give me oral that night.

> I said "IT HURTS." He stopped for one second and then put his finger in my throat. I screamed "NOOO" when he exposed himself. He turned my pain into rejection. He used my fear of abandonment to make me comply. Every time I resisted, he made me feel like the problem.
> The rest is a blur. I remember that he ejaculated on my stomach. I felt nothing, no release or satisfaction, only a constant fear that he did not like me back, and that I had to perform for him, and keep reassuring him, because he was a misunderstood autistic man. Something he referenced multiple times during the encounter as an explanation for his behavior.

- As commented above, I never put my finger in her throat.
- I asked if I was allowed to ejaculate on her stomach, and she said yes
- Later on Twitter I asked if she had liked it

Twitter conversation 17-25th September

He began shivering and shaking. He grabbed napkins and tried to wipe it off, but it was drying on my skin. He ran to the bathroom, wet a towel, and started wiping it off me. He did not like how it was going, so he grabbed me and put me under the shower. He began washing me with soap in his hand, scrubbing until he was satisfied that nothing was left. His hand was shaking the entire time.

I was terrified. Not of what had just happened to me, but of how scared he was, I stood under the water and told him: "Zeal it's ok, it's ok, you're okay. Zeal please, please listen to me. It's okay. I love you. I love you Zeal. Please listen to me. It's okay, really."

He did not listen. Eventually, while putting his clothes back on, he appeared to calm down. But every time he looked at me from the bathroom door, still standing awkwardly under the running water, completely confused about what I was supposed to do next, he covered his eyes and refused to look at me.

He left me under the running shower. He went into the room and finished getting dressed.

While he was almost done, he said:

"Well, can't wait for the Google Docs in five years!"

I screamed after him to listen to me, begging him to come back.

He did not come back. I noticed as he left that he was visibly aroused again, inside his shorts.

He ran out of my hotel room.

That was it.

- This was my first time being intimate with anyone, ever. This was the first time I had seen another person in a bedroom naked, the first time I had kissed anyone, the first time for everything. And I was plainly embarrassed. I was embarrassed that I had touched a woman intimately for the first time, and that I didn't manage to satisfy Ren properly. I was embarrassed, so I left out of embarrassment. I wanted to leave and be alone with my thoughts, and because I was embarrassed that the encounter didn't go as well as first times are meant to be.
- Ren was assuring me that it was okay, but I was still embarrassed.
- I washed us both up because I had read somewhere that showering after sex was a good idea, and I, of course, wanted to wash off Ren because it felt like the right thing to do, some aftercare.
- I left in a hurry because I just wanted to be alone.

- The Google Doc comment was a joke about me being shit at sex, that there would be a report about how bad I am at it, not at all about a false narrative that anything we had done was unconsensual. I did everything I could to ask Ren if x and y was okay, and get that reassurance first before anything.

> He came to my room because I was crying and in an emotional crisis. He held me for an hour and a half while I screamed and vented. He waited until I was completely exhausted and limp. Then he assaulted me. When I expressed pain, he made me feel guilty. When I said no, he made me take it back. When it was over, he shook with fear. Not for me. For himself. He washed the evidence off my body. He made a joke about me coming forward. And he left.

- I came to her room because she had messaged me during an emotional crisis, and my interpretation was that she wanted to see me in person.
- I held her whilst she was crying about the rest of the team not liking her.
- Once Ren stopped crying and asked me to get more comfortable, she asked to kiss me.
- We had bad first-time make out.
- I was shaking from wonder, not fear. It was my first time with someone, and I was shaking from the feeling of hooking up with a long-time crush I had. A good kind of shakiness.
- We shared a shower and talked affectionately about the encounter.
- I apologized to her for not making her orgasm as well.
- I left as I was embarrassed. As part of the embarrassment, I asked Ren not to talk about our encounter.
- I went back to my hotel and the communication continued immediately afterwards and in the days after.

Should I have stayed? Probably. The urgency to leave an embarrassing situation was, however, too overwhelming. I was too ashamed that I had disappointed and failed Ren for our first time.

After I got back, I texted with her for a bit, then went to bed.

> I had never fantasized about Zeal. Not once. That was a lie.

- She told me she fantasized about me. I could not know if it was a lie.

> I made a lot of stuff up to explain why my body did not cooperate during the assault like he wanted it to, trying not to make him feel bad about himself, or feel like a failure, or worry too much that he's hurt me. I was telling him: it's not that I don't want you. It's just timing. My body works for you when I'm alone. I promise. Please believe me. Please don't leave.

- I do not know how to respond to this. I wanted her to feel good. I did check on her during the interaction and did not understand, at the time, that she was experiencing the interaction the way she now describes it. I wanted her to have a good time, but due to my inexperience with sex, I was unable to do so.

Twitter conversation 17-25th September

- Weeks later when we had both left America she told me again about fantasies and about her lack of natural lubrication.
- I would never have imagined that "going at it" in a dry state would be something anyone would want or do.

My request for privacy

"Dw I won't tell anyone." Read that line again. If this was consensual, why would I need to promise secrecy? Why would my first instinct be to assure him that nobody will find out? I am protecting him. Seconds after he assaulted me, left me under running water, and made a joke about me coming forward, I am protecting him.

- I asked for privacy as an instinct of my embarrassment, and how I had not been good for a first timer.

"LOL." Then the voice message with my voice shaking. "ur so fucking funny man." I was trying so hard to show him everything was okay, so I wasn't dead to him. I am laughing the way you laugh when you are in shock and the only thing your brain knows how to do is pretend everything is fine because the alternative is falling apart, and I already fell apart once tonight, and it got me sexually assaulted.

> The very first thing he said the moment he walked out that door, leaving me standing under the running water alone.. "Well, that just happened." Four words. That was how he filed it away. He cracked a joke. He reduced everything that had just occurred in that room to a punchline. He minimized everything before I had even had time to process what had happened to me.

- I cracked a joke because, in my eyes, it was just bad first-time sex. It was not meant to reduce anything we had done, just a simple gag to comment on my poor performance.

> The same person who created something that millions of people love is the person who left marks on my body without my consent, then walked out of my hotel room and made a joke about it. That is not something I can resolve for you. But it's something you deserve to know.

- I left after our encounter because it was the first time that I was intimate with someone, and it was overwhelming for me at the time. I wanted to be alone with my thoughts, so I went back to my hotel room.
- I was embarrassed and tired, but still happy that my first time was with someone I liked.
- However, as Ren claims, everything she said during that was a lie on her part. A lie that I did not pick up on.

Messages to me while I was asleep

I said goodnight. Then, alone, thirteen minutes later, I sent four more lines to reassure him. Every sentence is oriented toward his emotional state. "I hope ur okay." "Don't feel bad." Sept 4, 11:08 AM PDT: I, having slept and woken, messages again: "Zeal / Are u still awake." No response for seventeen minutes. Zeal does not respond for hours. That afternoon: "Is okay." I later: "I really like your cuddles your arms and chest is so comforting / Kinda wish u were here rn." Zeal: "sorry." I: "I'm sorry / Idk what I was thinking."

I am apologizing for not doing anything and lying limp in bed during my own assault. I am coaching him through his shame. I am sending reassurance into a silence he chooses not to break for hours. When he finally responds it's two words: "Is okay." He is not checking on me. He is closing the loop on his own discomfort and nothing else. When I then tell him I wish he were there, I immediately take it back: "I'm sorry / Idk what I was thinking." I have been trained through this entire encounter to retract anything that might make him uncomfortable, even if I needed it.

- I was asleep as Ren was sending me the messages.
- I said "It's okay" in a cutesy tone in order to be calm. I could have worded it better, but the "is okay" was meant to be cute.
- I said "sorry" because I wasn't there, when she was expressing that she wished I was there.
- I was not checking up on Ren because I had a very busy schedule for my trip, and I hadn't planned for any encounters with her. As such, I didn't have the time to be there.
- The "i'm sorry/ Idk what I was thinking." came off to me as her regretting asking for the kiss the night before.

Buying condoms

I hold my pillow. He says sorry. He does not come. He goes back to sleep. No acknowledgment of what I experienced, or felt. Two words of absolution for himself and a goodnight.

This is the line that dismantles any claim that the night before was what he wanted. You do not propose to "try again" after something that went well. You try again when the first attempt did not go as planned, when you know something went wrong and you want another opportunity to get what you came for.

He is also making me responsible for procuring the protection. He is not offering to handle it. He is putting the logistics on me, making me the one who has to actively go out and acquire the means for this to happen. This is not the behavior of someone uncertain about whether I want this. This is someone who has already decided it will happen and is assigning me a task.

U got the car

Sept 4, 7:44 AM PDT: I shared that a new song came to me. Then Zeal: "I got some errands to run like makeship dinner and a dave and busters / Maybe if u buy condoms we can try again tonight." I: "Okay !!!! / But idk how to buy those and six is around too / U might have to do that." Zeal: "Hmm / Okay." I: "U got the car."

I said "Okay !!!!" and then immediately listed two reasons I can't do it. I do not express desire or anticipation. I say okay and then create friction. I became someone who has learned that saying no directly is not safe. Someone who introduces obstacles and hopes the plan falls apart on its own. A fawn response that has been rehearsed across hundreds of messages does not become desire simply because it's expressed with !!!!!

- These messages were sent to me during the morning. I had errands to run (Getting an RDC ticket, finding breakfast with my mom), and because I am emotionally dense and not good with flirting, it did not occur to me that she was asking me to come over.
- I did not go back to sleep. I went out for breakfast with my mom, as it was morning at that time.

- I was suggesting for her to buy the condoms, as I was hanging out with my mom. It would have been embarrassing to buy condoms with my parents around. I suggested it because of that, but due to Ren bringing up that she was with a friend, I decided to get them for us instead later during the day when I was alone.
- It did not occur to me that the “Okay !!!!” followed by logical reasoning as to why she wouldn’t be able to buy them, was meant to mean “No.”

I am telling him what he did wrong. I am not naming it as wrong, I cannot. He will abandon me. Instead I describe, in exact terms, what was missing the night before. It was not slow. He did not talk to me before doing anything.

I did not refuse a second encounter; I have been conditioned past the point where refusal feels available to me, and am trying to make the next one survivable by giving him instructions, coaching my own abuser on how to hurt, and scare me less. Begging him indirectly for mercy.

- I took a mental note of Ren’s comment about looking up sex, as I wanted for her to enjoy the experience as well.
- Yes, last night was a bit too fast, so I wanted to try again.

Sep 4, 7:49 - 7:50 AM PDT: Zeal: "We cab try but ud need to leace early cuz my mom."

His mother was with him at RDC. He has mentioned her as the reason I would need to leave early. He did not want her to ever meet me. He wanted me to go to his hotel room to use me there, then leave early before his mom came back. He did not want his mother to find out what he was doing, but also wanted the comfort of his own place, for something he wanted to do.

I: "Ur not coming over to my place??? / My place is better ur building is filled with devs." Zeal: "Acyually thatd be better maybe / True." I: "Ya I can just give u my other card to come whenever u wanna."

He did not offer for me to meet her. He has been planning a late-night encounter with me while keeping me entirely separate from anyone in his life who might witness or question what he is doing.

I offer him a key card to my room. Unrestricted access, making myself as available and easy to reach as possible because the alternative, being someone he has to work for, feels like the thing that will make him abandon me.

- I did not want my Ren to come over to my hotel room, as me and my mom were staying across from each other, and had keycards to each other's rooms. I did not want my mom to walk in on me having sex.
- Ren and my mom had already met a few days prior in the hotel lobby. I didn't feel the need to reintroduce her to Ren.
- I was thinking of my room because Ren hadn't specified where she wanted to sleep, so my room came to mind first.
- I declined the offer of the keycard, because I didn't find it necessary.

I offer him a key card to my room. Unrestricted access, making myself as available and easy to reach as possible because the alternative, being someone he has to work for, feels like the thing that will make him abandon me.

Zeal: "Nah i gotta hang with ppl." I: "Me too / Oh wait rn??" Zeal: "My mom / Breakfast."

He declines to come to my room and goes to have breakfast with his mother instead. I am not allowed to meet her. I do not ask why. I have already learned not to push past a boundary he sets, because his boundaries are enforced and mine are not.

Sep 4, 7:55-7:57 : Zeal: "im not that big of a romantic sorry." Zeal: "gotta be around 23 or midnight / cuz i got a dave n busters thing with the mates."

I am giving him the reason. I am explaining my own assault back to him in terms that protect him from feeling bad, not "you hurt me," but "here is what you need to do differently, so it doesn't hurt again." I am sorry for his inexperience, offering to teach him to treat me how I deserve to be treated. With gentleness and care.

He does not acknowledge what I have just said. He ignores me, then tells me he can come around 11 PM or midnight, after Dave & Busters with the "mates".

He has set a time for the second attempt. He did not ask if I wanted to try again. He announced when he would arrive, and I complied.

- I didn't acknowledge what she said with a text, as I took a mental note. It didn't occur to me that she may have wanted confirmation.
- The time I suggested was when would be the ideal time to meet up again. It was not meant as a set time, just a recommendation. Thus, the "gotta be around" part.

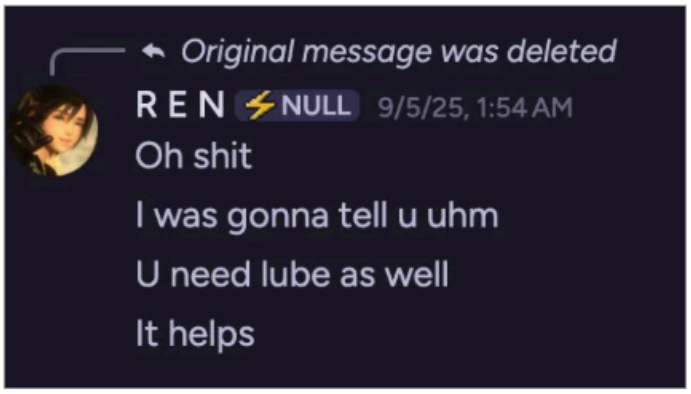
Hey dumb dumb
How r u
Everything going okay today?

- The “oh boi” was meant as a Mickey Mouse “Oh boy!” type of message in excitement.

- I was at 2% when sending these messages. The rental car I was driving did not have a phone charger
- The text “Condoms” was sent after ren had said “Some what”
- I asked how her friend was because I knew they were hanging out.

He has set a time for the second attempt. He did not ask if I wanted to try again. He announced when he would arrive, and I complied.



Sept 4, 3:54 PM PDT: In reply to a deleted message from Zeal about condoms, I: "Oh shit / I was gonna tell u uhm / U need lube as well / It helps."

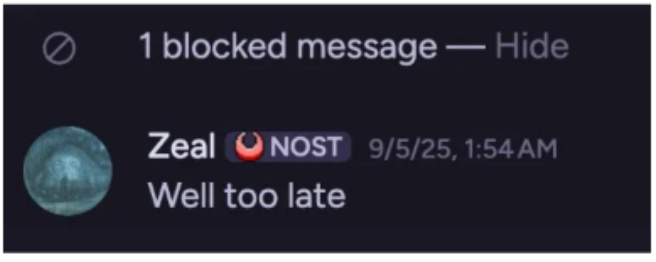
He deleted the condoms message. The evidence of him arranging the logistics of a repeat encounter is gone from the record on his end. What remains is my reply, responding to it, adding information I had looked up on his behalf.

I have been doing research. After what happened to me in that room, I spent part of my day finding out what would make it hurt less next time. Not because I wanted it, but because I had been trained, across the entire preceding night and morning, that my body's failure to cooperate was my problem to fix, and I was afraid of that same pain happening again.

The lube message was me trying to protect myself from a pain I already knew was coming.

- The condom message was deleted shortly after being sent, because looking into my messages and just seeing the word “Condoms” embarrassed me.
- This is an important note: Ren only suggested lube after she had told a friend about our encounter, and the friend recommended it to her. This was done in person. Her friend told me this at a later date in a call.
- Afterward, I learned that private details of our experience had been shared with multiple people despite my request that it remain private. That loss of trust was a major factor in the breakdown of communication between us.
- I did not know at the time that Ren had talked to her friend.

The lube message was me trying to protect myself from a pain I already knew was coming.



Sept 4, 3:54 PM PDT: In reply to my message about needing lube, Zeal: “Well too late.”

- I had already left the store after she asked for lube in order to attend my scheduled meetings with others. By the time I'd be done, the stores would be closed.

Sept 4, 3:54-3:56 PM PDT: I: "No the stuff is open 24/7 is it not? / The stores for that stuff." I am trying to find a way to make this work. He is not.

- 24/7 convenience stores, to my knowledge, do not sell lube. I had recently checked the internet, and all nearby stores that had lube would close by the time my activities were done. I was not able to locate a 24/7 store.

Sept 4, 3:56-3:57 PM PDT: Zeal: "Man u can get it then / Lazy asss :p." I: "No its / Not easy for me."

"Not easy for me," is the closest I come to saying no.

I am twenty two years old, alone in a country I had never been to before, on my first trip outside my home country. I had no car, no license, no familiarity with the area. He had his mother with him. I was dependent on friends to take me anywhere. I had never purchased condoms or lubricant in my life, nor am I sure where they sell them in this country. I did not know where to go or how to get there, but Zeal did not care and called me lazy instead.

He was twenty two, also, but had a rental car and a driver's license. His mother was with him, and he knew how to navigate the area well enough to move around between hotels, restaurants, and Dave & Busters on his own schedule, and had every logistical advantage I did not. Naturally, as the owner of a million dollar IP should.

He did not offer to pick them up on his way to my room later, did not offer to stop at a store between his dinner and Dave & Busters. He had a car and a packed schedule full of stops, any one of which could have included a two-minute detour. He chose not to. He put the burden on the person who had the least ability to carry it, mocked me for struggling with it, and moved on to his evening plans, as I felt bad about myself, dissatisfying him.

The same person who made my body's pain about his rejection the night before is now making the logistics of protection my responsibility. If it does not happen, it will be because I failed to provide it, not because he failed to care.

- My "Lazy asss" comment was a half hearted joke. It was not meant to be an insult.
- On my rides, I was driving people around. It would have been awkward and embarrassing to drop by a store just to buy lube.
- 3 minutes after my message was sent, Ren brought up her concerns. I suggested trying again the next day if it didn't work. These messages are in the picture below. If Ren was unable to get wet again, I didn't want to hurt her.
- I wanted her to have a good time, and unfortunately, I hadn't factored it into the schedule for RDC events and dinners that I had planned for months.

September 4, 2025: 3:56 PM to 3:59 PM

Zeal tells me I can get the condoms myself, calling me "Lazy asss" when I explain I have no car and am traveling with a friend. He follows it with a joking ":p". I reply: "No its / Not easy for me." Zeal ends with: "We can try tmrw if it dowsnt work."

Sept 4, 2025, 3:56-3:59 PM: Zeal dismisses my mobility constraints, calls me "Lazy asss," and proposes trying again that night.

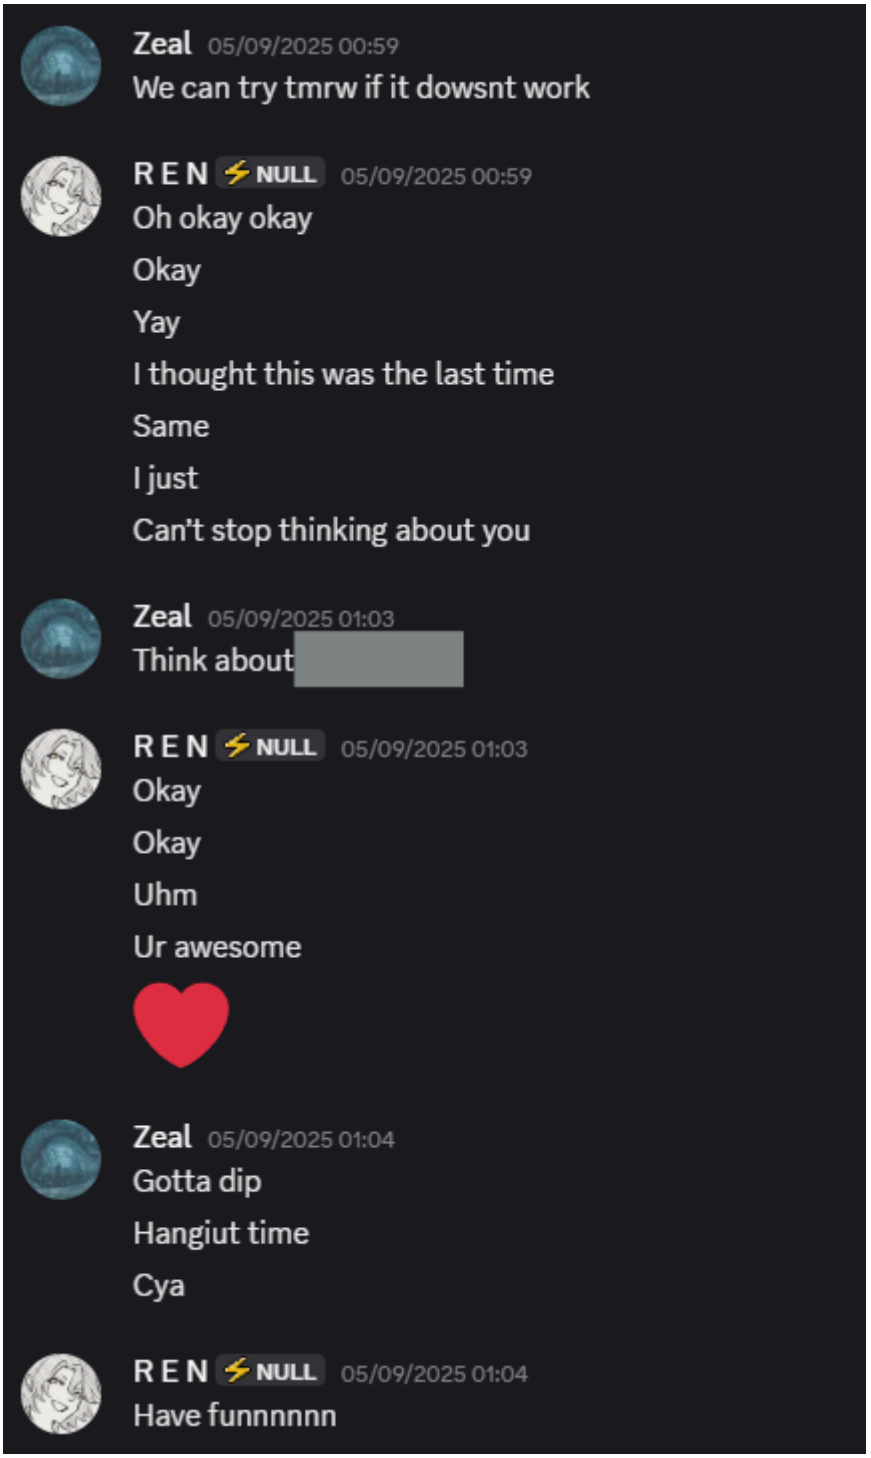
He assaulted me less than twenty hours earlier. He is now mocking me for not being able to independently acquire protection for a repeat encounter he is planning without my full agreement. There is no check-in, no acknowledgement of the night before.

- As stated above, my comment was not of mockery, but simply a light-hearted joke.

- I did not propose to try again “that night”, I suggested tomorrow if tonight didn’t work out. It was not saying that we had to try again tomorrow if it didn’t work; I was merely suggesting it.

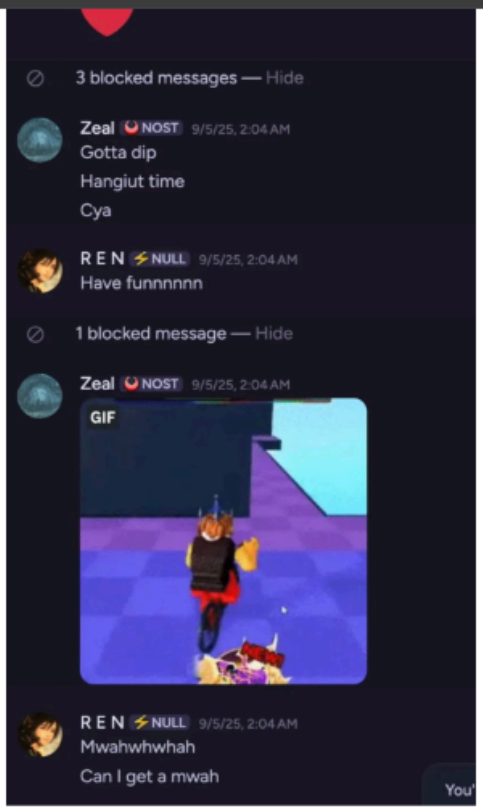
Can’t stop thinking about you

Ren has left out some messages. Here they are.



- It comes off to me that she was disappointed that tonight would be the last time, and was excited that tomorrow was a possibility. Later communication also reflected an interest in seeing me again and being physically close again.

- I had to leave as I had arrived for the first meetup I had scheduled.



Sept 4, 2025, 4:04 PM: Zeal leaves for his evening plans. I responded with fawn.

He is leaving to spend the evening with others, and has planned to come back to me later that night. He says goodbye warmly and casually, as though nothing bad has happened. I then asked for a mwah, as I am still operating in fawn response.

Sept 4, 2025, 4:05 PM: Zeal issues an unprompted disclaimer: "this isnt dating," then edits the message.

"ODing" is Roblox slang for online dating.

He edits the message after sending it, suggesting he considered his wording carefully.

He never once checked in on me, my physical or mental health, nor cared. He never asked if I was okay after the night before. His only concern is his reputation, how people perceive him, and my silence about what happened, and to never take accountability for anything, making sure I know my place in the dynamic.

- I wanted to make it clear to Ren that we weren't dating. I saw our hookups more as a Friends with Benefits situation. I wanted to make that clear, as I am not a romantic, and the romantic stuff was giving that impression. I simply wanted to express my boundaries. We were 2 people from countries far away from each other, and I didn't want to be in a long distance relationship. I was typing this out in the moment as I was walking to the area of the meet.

Sept 4, 2025, 11:41-11:44 PM: I continued sharing. Zeal responds briefly before asking again: "Are u back soonV."

I told Zeal my entire day. I showed him photos of almost everyone I met, shared my feelings, my excitement, my self-discovery. Zeal told me nothing about his day. His responses were brief and distracted. When I finished sharing my entire day, his response was: "Its almost midnight / Are u back soonV."

He was not present in the conversation. He was waiting for my body to arrive for him.

- I was excited, yes, we had, to my knowledge, been sexting all day, and I was very excited to get together again.
- I don't usually talk about my day unless prompted, because I don't want to bother people about it.

Sept 4, 2025, 11:45-11:47 PM: Zeal: " Its ok ill stay hard for you smirks." I immediately asked him to take it slow.

My immediate response to "ill stay hard for you" was "Can we just take it slow / Please / Don't / Rush / Please." This is a direct, explicit request, because I am scared. I am asking him to slow down before I even arrive.

I told him I was worried I was being a burden to him, and his response was to tell me he was maintaining an erection for me. This is the clearest possible statement of what I was to him in that moment: a body he was waiting on, not a person he was concerned about at all.

- Yes, I said this because throughout the entire day, we had been talking about having sex. It was meant as a stupid sex joke, nothing more. I was excited to see her after only seeing her a few times during RDC.
- Ren is someone whom I love as a person. I did not see her "as a body". I wanted to hang out and have sex with Ren, because she was Ren. Someone whom I had known for many years and grown attached to.

- Ren brought up her concerns, and I agreed.

Zeal says: "Sorry." I responded immediately: "Ur fine / U were excited." Then: "U were a fucking feral animal it's funny / I didn't hate it / I just didn't feel ready fast enough." I explain what I needed: time, love, care, foreplay, words. I tell him sex is intimate, not like pornography. I coach him: "U need to just show me how genuinely u want me."

Sept 4, 2025, 11:51 PM: Zeal apologizes. I immediately reassured him and reframed the assault as him being "feral" and excited.

Sept 4, 2025, 11:54 PM: I coach Zeal on what intimacy requires, then exchange "mwah" messages.

Zeal apologized in one word. I spent the next several messages explaining that it was fine, that he was just excited, and then teaching him how to do it better next time. I am not refusing a second encounter. I have been conditioned past the point where refusal feels like a real option. I am trying to make the next one survivable.

- My pointers for the first night are the same as above.
- I didn't have much to say, because I agreed with her that last night had gone a bit fast. As it was my first time, I understood that I needed to educate myself more on how sex should be paced and done.

Before he has even arrived, he has already announced his exit. He will leave immediately when he wakes up, and tells me this, so I have no expectation of any sort of care. He is managing my expectations the same way he managed them at 4:05 PM: making sure I know my place.

I have just spent the past hour asking him to go slow, setting boundaries, explaining what I need, and coaching him on consent. His response to all of it was to confirm he is coming over and announce when he will leave.

- I had to leave early in the morning so I could attend a prior engagement. Additionally, it was another day of packed events.
- My intention was not to let Ren “know her place”. I had scheduled my visit to RDC ahead of time, and had not planned to get together with Ren, or anyone else during it.

Midnight: September 4-5, 2025

At 11:59 PM on September 4, 2025, Zeal had confirmed he was coming over. I had just arrived back at my hotel room after being stuck outside Round One with my friend. I went to use the bathroom to get ready, I took longer than usual. I stood in front of the mirror for a long time, looking at myself, wondering... why me?

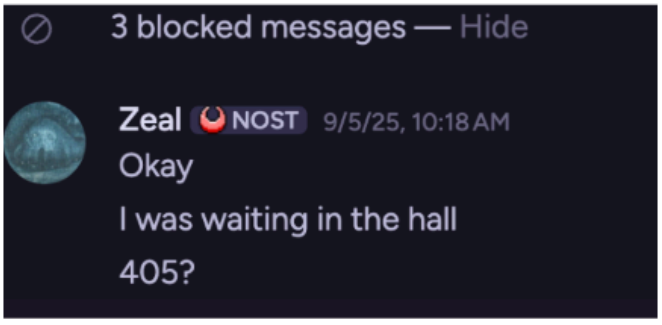
I was terrified. I was afraid he would lose control, that there would be unprotected penetration, that I could get pregnant, and that if I did I would have to kill myself. What people would call me. How miserable my life was going to be, and how lonely it all was going to get. I was bracing myself and did not want what I believed was about to happen, but I believed the cost of refusing was higher than the cost of complying.

I got ready, because I had been conditioned to believe that keeping Zeal happy was something I could not afford to fail at.

- I had no intention of penetration without explicit permission. I wanted to do the things Ren brought up, taking it at her pace this time, determined to do it right.

Sept 5, 2025: 12:18 AM PDT Zeal responds: “Okay / I was waiting in the hall / 405?”

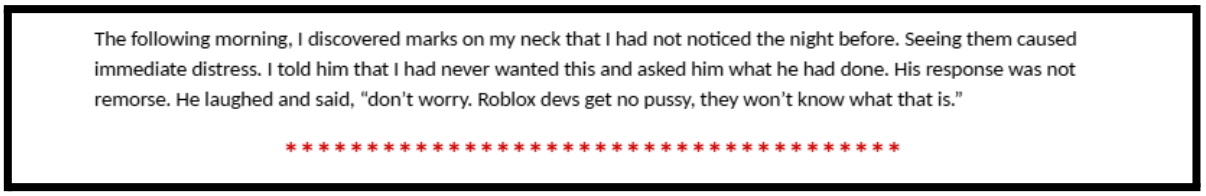
He did not wait for the invitation before coming. He was already positioned in the hallway outside my door before I said I was ready, stood there and waited. He confirmed my room number, then came in.



Sept 5, 2025, 12:18 AM PDT. Zeal reveals he had already been waiting in the hallway outside my room before I invited him.

- I had gone over to her hotel early because I wanted to see Ren again.

Once I enter the room, I put the condoms on a drawer and sit next to Ren on the bed. I then asked for permission to kiss her, and she said yes.
Over the course of the next 2 hours, we did everything at her pace. Kissing, taking off clothes, and just talking together.



The following morning, I discovered marks on my neck that I had not noticed the night before. Seeing them caused immediate distress. I told him that I had never wanted this and asked him what he had done. His response was not remorse. He laughed and said, "don't worry. Roblox devs get no pussy, they won't know what that is."

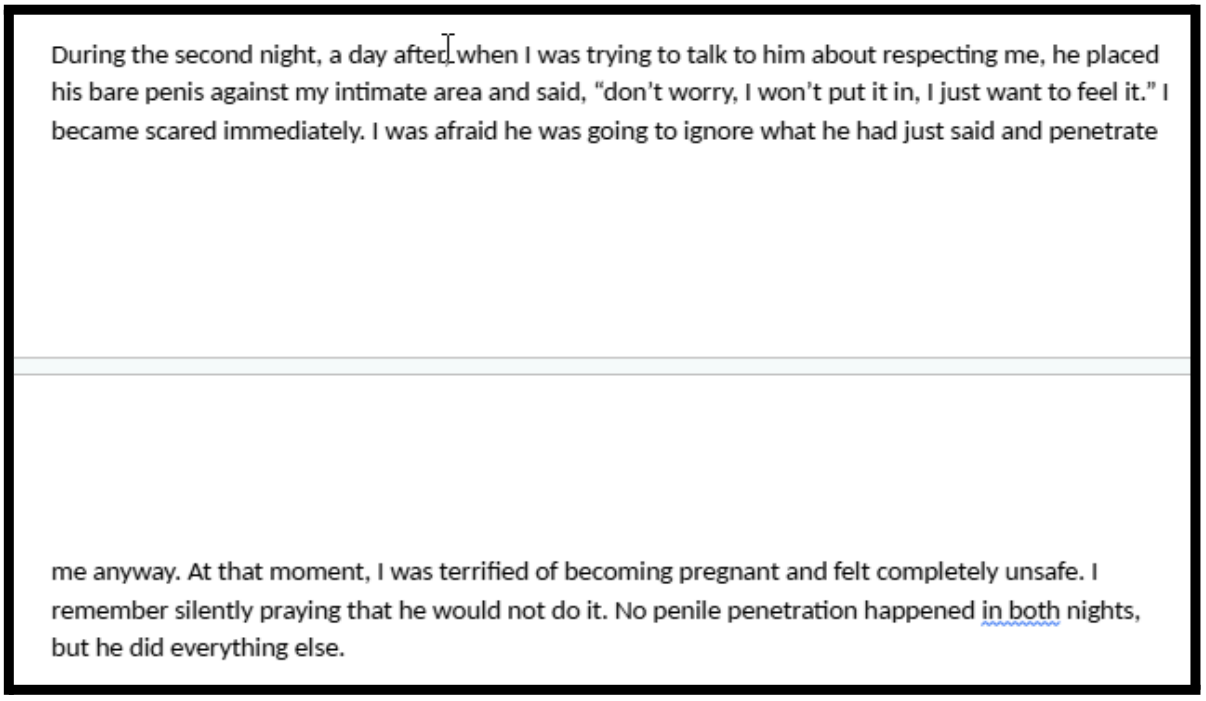
- During this time, Ren had asked me to kiss and lick her neck. This, in turn, gave her hickeys, which I didn't intend to leave.
- Before this, I did not know what a hickey was.



During the second night, a day after when I was trying to talk to him about respecting me, he placed his bare penis against my intimate area and said, "don't worry, I won't put it in, I just want to feel it." I became scared immediately. I was afraid he was going to ignore what he had just said and penetrate me anyway. At that moment, I was terrified of becoming pregnant and felt completely unsafe. I remember silently praying that he would not do it. No penile penetration happened in both nights, but he did everything else.

- Ren is right. There was no penile penetration.
- We engaged in other kinds of sexual activity.
- In the end, Ren asked if she could jack me off until I came, and I let her.
- We then cleaned up again like last night, took a shower, and then went to bed.
- Ren had asked me to spend the night with her, and I did.
- I slept on my back whilst she slept on my chest.

- I want to make it clear that I would not have spent the night actually sleeping with Ren, had she not asked, as I would have preferred to sleep in my own hotel room.

- Whilst we were cuddling and talking, Ren talked about how she had told 2 of her friends about our first encounter, and that is the specific reason she had asked for lube because a friend had recommended it. I was saddened by this, as it was the one thing I had requested for her not to do, but I decided to look past it as she may just have been excited in the moment.

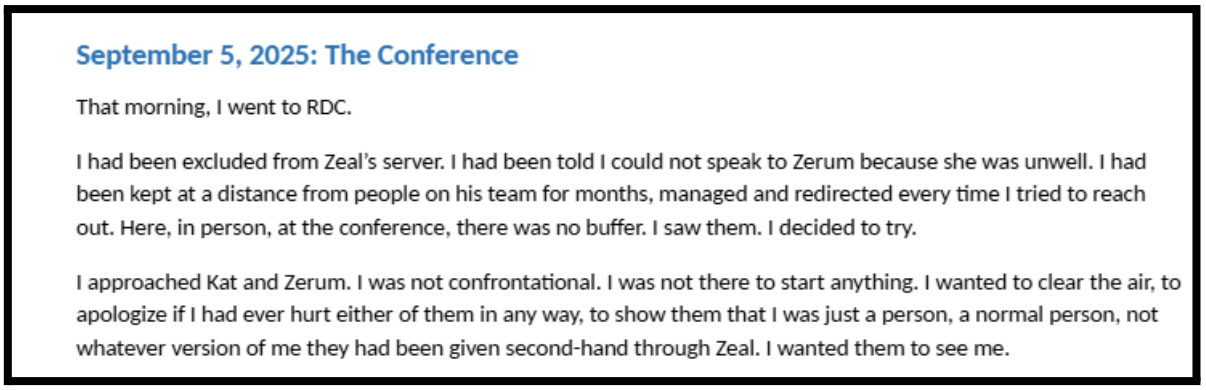
The Conference



September 5, 2025: The Conference

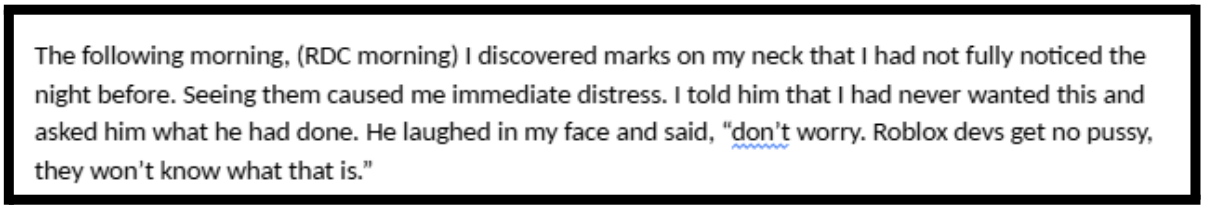
That morning, I went to RDC.

I had been excluded from Zeal's server. I had been told I could not speak to Zerum because she was unwell. I had been kept at a distance from people on his team for months, managed and redirected every time I tried to reach out. Here, in person, at the conference, there was no buffer. I saw them. I decided to try.

I approached Kat and Zerum. I was not confrontational. I was not there to start anything. I wanted to clear the air, to apologize if I had ever hurt either of them in any way, to show them that I was just a person, a normal person, not whatever version of me they had been given second-hand through Zeal. I wanted them to see me.

- Ren was not permitted into the development server any longer, as she was no longer a developer.
- Ren had insulted Zerum in their DM's before leaving the development team. I was not aware about this until later.
- I did not know that Ren had interacted with the rest of the team until after I had returned to my home country.

September 5th, 2025



The following morning, (RDC morning) I discovered marks on my neck that I had not fully noticed the night before. Seeing them caused me immediate distress. I told him that I had never wanted this and asked him what he had done. He laughed in my face and said, "don't worry. Roblox devs get no pussy, they won't know what that is."

- During the night on the 5th, during the foreplay, Ren had asked me to kiss and lick her neck. As I wanted to satisfy her, I did as she requested. I did not know what a hickey was at the time, and had given them to her by accident.
- Ren informed me that a friend had brought concealer that she would use. As such, it did not seem like a big deal to me at the time, thus, the joke.

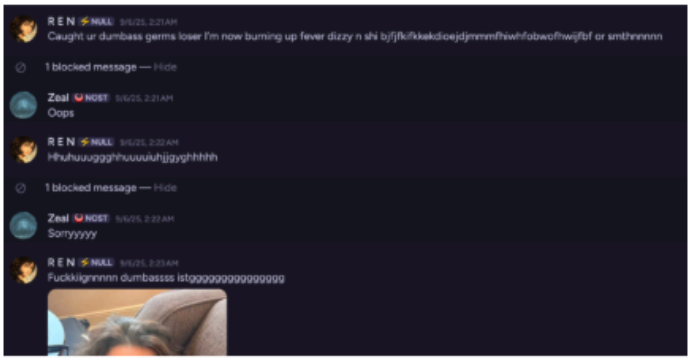
In the afternoon of September 5, I message Zeal: "Caught ur dumbass germs loser I'm now burning up fever dizzy n shi." Zeal responds: "Oops" and then "Sorrryyy." I call him names and swear at him affectionately.

The tone is joking. I am sick because of the physical closeness they shared, and I am laughing about it. I am channeling my illness into affectionate teasing. This is the shape of a trauma bond: the source of harm becomes the source of comfort.



Sept 5, 2025, 4:21-4:23 PM PDT. I am sick with a fever caught from Zeal. His response: "Oops."

Sept 5, 2025, 4:29-4:30 PM PDT. I continued joking while sick.

I am still sick, awake through the afternoon. I watch my Uber on my phone and make a joke about the driver's music. I message Zeal. Zeal tells me he has a two-hour dinner. I respond: "2 hours? / That's long why / I had a bagel / Have fun nuuy" and "Take care of urself."

I am ill, alone in my room, and my concern is for his dinner. This holds true across all of the entire record: my attention is oriented toward Zeal's comfort even when I am the one who needs care.

- This dinner had been planned for months. I knew that Ren had 3 additional friends who they were hanging out with, so I thought they could have taken care of her.

I wanna be rested for tomorrow and the day after

- Having only gotten 6 and 5 hours of sleep, I wanted to take a proper rest day.
- While I did enjoy having had my first sexual experiences this was also an important business event for me.
- I don't function well without proper rest and being around so many people all day and then spending the nights in Ren's arms had really drained my mental batteries.

myself selfish.

Sept 5, 2025: 10:50 PM to 10:57 PM PDT

Zeal sends a long message for the first time in never:

He is telling me plainly that what I have found in him is not something I can keep. He frames it as care, he says “this is kinda why i was afraid.” What he was afraid of was my attachment, not for my sake, but for his convenience. Only after he got what he wanted, more than once.

I am thanking him. I am telling the person who assaulted me that he gave me hope that men can be good, and wish there were more men like him. I've normalized what was done to me so completely that I can sit in its aftermath and feel grateful.

Sept 5, 2025, 10:50-10:57 PM PDT. Zeal tells me the good thing I have “relies on” him, someone who won’t be there. I thank him for giving me hope.

- I said this as I do not wish to be in a long distance relationship. I wanted to make it clear to her that this wouldn't be healthy for us.
- Ren told me, in person, in bed, how I was the only good thing that she had going for her. I am bringing that up here as a point on why I don't think a relationship is a good idea, since we both have to go home.

I do so too
Good men exist but fuck were a rare breed

Zeal: “I do so too / Good men exist but fuck were a rare breed”

This exchange is the clearest distillation of the entire dynamic. He gives me just enough warmth to feel seen, then he withdraws. Then he tells me to go find it somewhere else. Then he says sorry. He has done this across every section of this record, not once owning up to what he’s done, and recognizing that he’s hurt me, and continues to hurt me.

- I was trying to explain to her that once we leave America, I wouldn’t be able to be there for her, as over the last two days, she expressed to me that she wanted to stay with me. Something which just wasn’t possible.

Sept 5, 2025: 11:27 PM to 11:44 PM PDT

My response to Zeal's "Sorry" is not what a person with a clear view of what has happened to them would write. It's clear and it shows that it is what someone in the grip of a trauma bond writes, someone who has been so thoroughly conditioned to orient toward their abuser that the abuse itself has become the source of their sense of safety, and without it, I'd collapse.

I write, in part:

"Don't be / I lost the hope but u gave it back / Now I know men like you actually exist even if it's rare / So thank u for this / All of this"

And then, minutes later:

"I feel safe with u now I don't think I'll ever feel scared of u again / Ur a genuinely gentle kind hearted soul / And u deserve the world / I love u zeal okay / I wish u the best genuinely I wish u all the happiness and laughs and success and everything u wish and strive for and will support u / I won't distance from u ever again... / We wouldn't have connected the way we did this fucking close if we didn't love each other and care this deeply and I appreciate it so much / I know I have someone in my life that's rly awesome now hehe"

I tell him I feel safe with him. I tell him I love him. I tell him I will not distance myself from him ever again. I thank him for giving me hope. I call him a "genuinely gentle kind hearted soul."

This is being written to the person who sexually assaulted me less than twenty-four hours earlier.

They call it trauma bonding.

I was experiencing many things like something called Stockholm Syndrome, in which a person who has been harmed by someone they depended on for safety, affection, and validation experiences an intensified attachment to that person in the aftermath of the harm. The abuser becomes, paradoxically, the only source of relief from the fear they created.

Every element of Zeal's behavior throughout this record, the warmth and the withdrawal, the praise and the dismissal, the physical access followed by normalization, is consistent with a grooming pattern that produces exactly this response. The fact that I express safety after being hurt is the key to showing something genuinely horrible was happening, but I didn't know, and was unaware at the time.

I also referenced something Zeal had promised me "a while back after the last update", a reference to a previous interaction within the Roblox community context, and says "the shit I did happened and stuff." I am already re-narrating the assault as "stuff" that "happened." Something that got in the way of plans, rather than something done to me, the same way Zeal had framed it.

- I was "dismissive", "distant" and "withdrawn" because I was constantly busy physically. Talking to people, connecting, and just overall being busy with a lot of things. My texts were short and brief as I was active, talking to people in person, etc. I was just incredibly busy, nothing more.

Three days have passed since the assault. I am still reaching toward him.

Sept 6, 2025, 5:02 PM PDT

I sent him a photo of my neck. The marks he left are visible. I write: "U forgot u left those?"

Zeal says: "Oops." Then: "No."

"Oops" and then "No." Flippancy, then denial. He left marks on my neck and his entire response is two words across two messages. There is no concern for whether I am okay. No acknowledgment of what those marks mean or how they got there. Just "Oops" and "No."

I am not confronting him. I am not angry. The tone of "U forgot u left those?" is not accusatory. It's almost playful, I am pointing at evidence of what he did to my body the way you would point at something charming he accidentally left behind. This is what the conditioning produced, I am showing him the marks on my neck and making it easy for him.

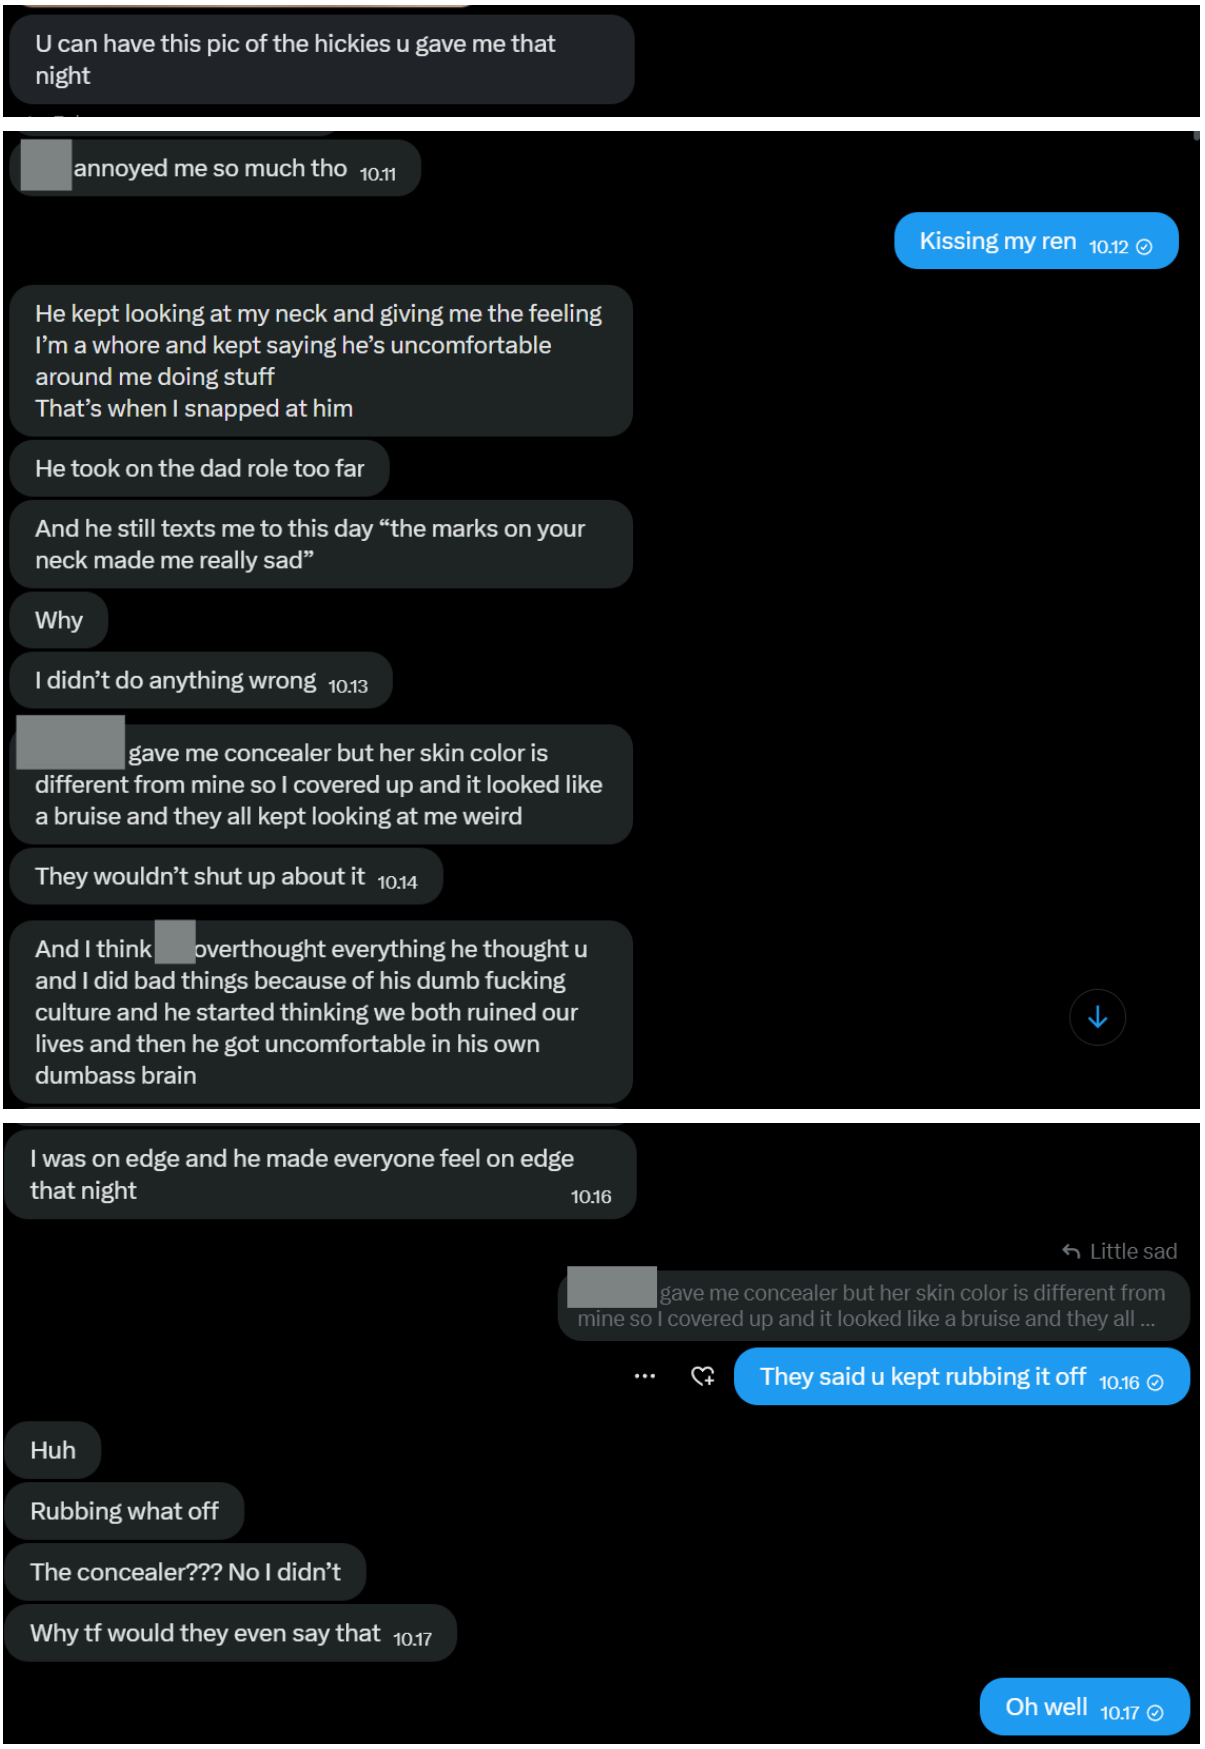
No

Sept 6, 2025, 5:02 PM PDT. I send Zeal a photo of the marks on my neck. He says "Oops" and then "No."

- At this time I had been told that Ren had talked about our encounter to her friends. If had been told that she was wearing her hickies "loud and proud".
- I knew Ren had concealer, but was told she was rubbing it off.

- We later discussed this in Private messages on Twitter.



U can have this pic of the hickies u gave me that night
[redacted] annoyed me so much tho 10.11
Kissing my ren 10.12
He kept looking at my neck and giving me the feeling I'm a whore and kept saying he's uncomfortable around me doing stuff
That's when I snapped at him
He took on the dad role too far
And he still texts me to this day "the marks on your neck made me really sad"
Why
I didn't do anything wrong 10.13
[redacted] gave me concealer but her skin color is different from mine so I covered up and it looked like a bruise and they all kept looking at me weird
They wouldn't shut up about it 10.14
And I think [redacted] overthought everything he thought u and I did bad things because of his dumb fucking culture and he started thinking we both ruined our lives and then he got uncomfortable in his own dumbass brain
I was on edge and he made everyone feel on edge that night 10.16
Little sad
[redacted] gave me concealer but her skin color is different from mine so I covered up and it looked like a bruise and they all ...
They said u kept rubbing it off 10.16
Huh
Rubbing what off
The concealer??? No I didn't
Why tf would they even say that 10.17
Oh well 10.17

- Whether she rubbed it off or not I cannot be sure.
- She does not think that me and her "did bad things".

September 6th, 2025

On Sept 6th, Ren is claiming that I sent her messages in order to “abandon” her.

Sept 6, 2025, 6:18–6:57 PM PDT

The RIA notification comes through in our conversation: “Ready for the RIAs?! Doors are open! Make your way over and enjoy some pre-show bites and drinks. Reminder, there is no re-entry once you exit the venue.”

I text: “Careful.”

One word. I am watching out for him even now. Even as he walks into a room full of people who do not know what happened in my hotel room three nights ago. I am still the person who cares whether he makes it inside before the doors close.

Then: “May I see ur fit :3”

Zeal responds: “Not now / Its starting.”

He dismisses the request in four words. The show is starting. I can wait. Or I cannot wait, and it does not matter, because he is walking into the RIAs and I am on the other side of a screen.

I say: “Here’s mine.” And I send him a photo of myself.

September 6, 2025: The Night I Decided to Die

The RIA night was not over when I wrote that. It was just beginning.

What happened next is the hardest part of this document to write. Not because I am not sure of it. I am sure of every second of it. It’s hard to write because I’m still here, and for a long stretch of that night, I was trying very hard not to be.

What He Did, and What He Knew

Zeal knows I have BPD. He has known this for as long as we have been close. He knows what it means: the fear of abandonment that can become consuming, the way emotional pain can escalate past what I can regulate on my own, the way I can spiral when I feel cornered or discarded. He knows all of this. That night, he used it.

He engineered a situation that he knew would trigger me. He knew exactly which lever to pull and he pulled it. When I lost control. This is what BPD looks like when someone who knows your diagnosis deliberately pushes on it. I said things I did not mean. I made threats. I am physically small. He knows I am physically small. He has always known that. The threats were empty, and he knew they were empty. He had just left marks on my neck three nights before. I have never hurt anyone in my life.

But the threats existed now. And that is what mattered to him.

- Since Ren is not showing the messages, here they listed below.
- After less than half an hour at the RIA, I had gone back to my hotel room due to how loud the theater was.
- I was then informed by a friend that Ren had told more people than I had previously known about our encounters, instead of just her and another friend.
- Because of this, I messaged her to let her know that this was not okay, and that I didn’t want to talk to her anymore.
- This was not me “pushing her diagnosis”. This was me being very disappointed she had disclosed our private business to what felt as “everyone”.

Below is our DM history from RIA.

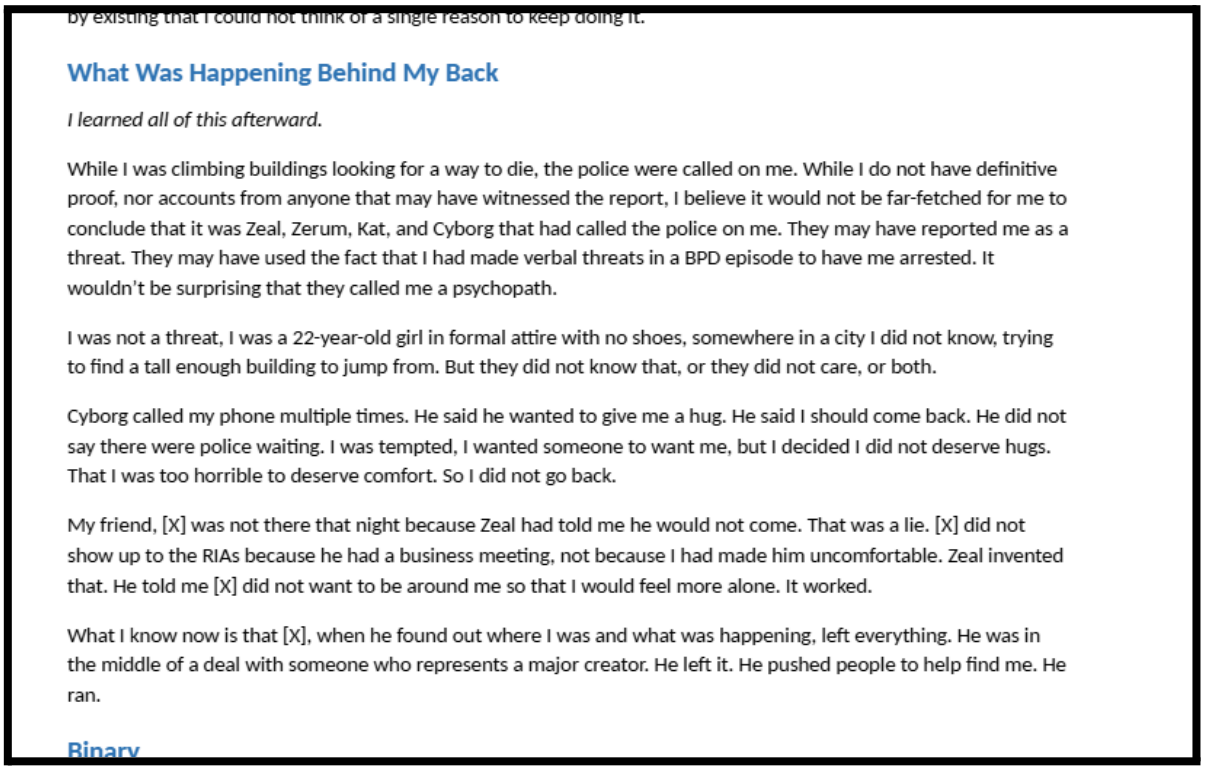
- After I had sent “Stop.”, I closed any DM’s sent from Ren and turned my phone off. It was only after I had flown home a few days later that I was notified about her suicide attempt. This horrified me, as I was not made aware of it until that. I wanted to reach out to her again in order to ensure that she was safe, and I wanted to help her, as I still had feelings for her. I brushed my anger aside, and gave her another chance.

September 6th, 2025

Police was called

The police were called on Ren because she had freaked out her friend by telling her that she was gonna kill herself.



by existing that I could not think of a single reason to keep doing it.

What Was Happening Behind My Back

I learned all of this afterward.

While I was climbing buildings looking for a way to die, the police were called on me. While I do not have definitive proof, nor accounts from anyone that may have witnessed the report, I believe it would not be far-fetched for me to conclude that it was Zeal, Zerum, Kat, and Cyborg that had called the police on me. They may have reported me as a threat. They may have used the fact that I had made verbal threats in a BPD episode to have me arrested. It wouldn't be surprising that they called me a psychopath.

I was not a threat, I was a 22-year-old girl in formal attire with no shoes, somewhere in a city I did not know, trying to find a tall enough building to jump from. But they did not know that, or they did not care, or both.

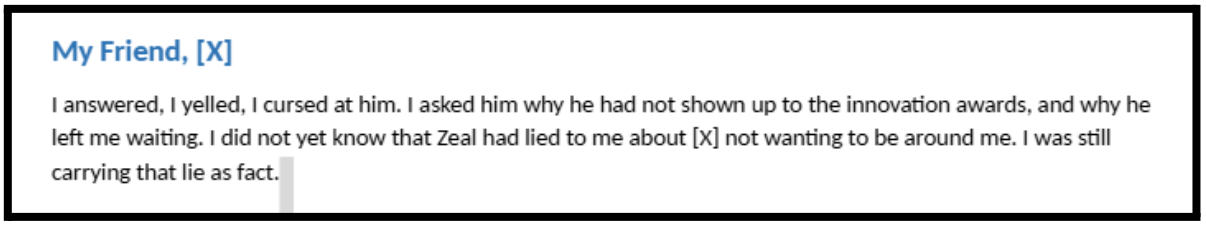
Cyborg called my phone multiple times. He said he wanted to give me a hug. He said I should come back. He did not say there were police waiting. I was tempted, I wanted someone to want me, but I decided I did not deserve hugs. That I was too horrible to deserve comfort. So I did not go back.

My friend, [X] was not there that night because Zeal had told me he would not come. That was a lie. [X] did not show up to the RIAs because he had a business meeting, not because I had made him uncomfortable. Zeal invented that. He told me [X] did not want to be around me so that I would feel more alone. It worked.

What I know now is that [X], when he found out where I was and what was happening, left everything. He was in the middle of a deal with someone who represents a major creator. He left it. He pushed people to help find me. He ran.

Binary

- The police were not called because Ren was a “threat”, but because the person who called was concerned for Ren’s safety, as she had expressed that she was gonna kill herself.
- I had no idea about the police's involvement until post-RDC.



My Friend, [X]

I answered, I yelled, I cursed at him. I asked him why he had not shown up to the innovation awards, and why he left me waiting. I did not yet know that Zeal had lied to me about [X] not wanting to be around me. I was still carrying that lie as fact.

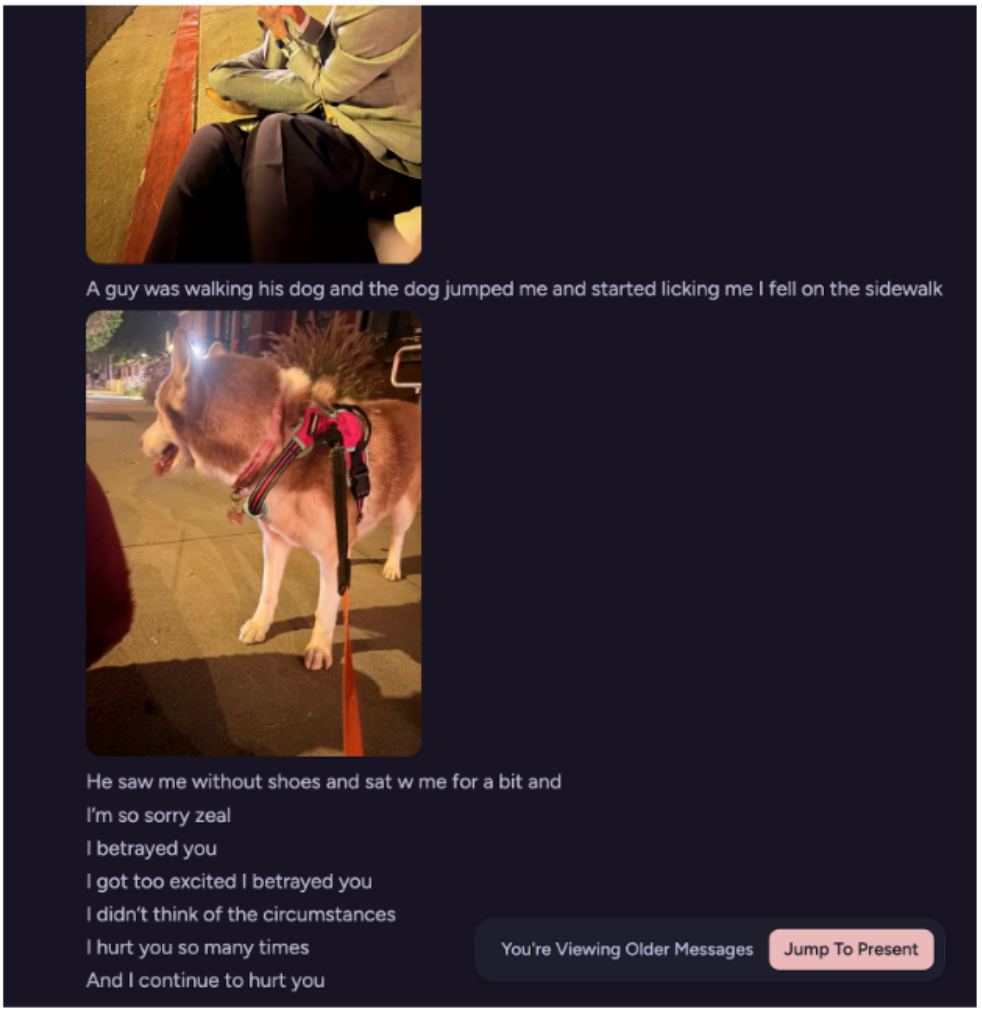
- I had only stated that X did not want to attend the RIA because of Ren, not forgo her entirely. I never claimed that X would abandon her.

Reporting Back to Zeal. Again.

[X] and I sat together on the sidewalk for a while. And during that time, I started texting Zeal.

Not to tell him what had happened to me. Not to confront him. To apologize. Again. The same reporting back to Zeal cycle continued even then.

I had just spent hours trying to find a way to die. A stranger had sat with me on a curb. My friend had run through the streets to reach me. And the first thing I did when I held my phone back in my hands was tell Zeal I was sorry.



A guy was walking his dog and the dog jumped me and started licking me I fell on the sidewalk
He saw me without shoes and sat w me for a bit and

Reconnecting

There were 4 days of silence.

On Sep 11 we started talking again

begging him to stay.

I respond: "I fucking miss u. I fucking miss u so much u don't even begin to understand the guilt I feel. I was up for the past few hours pretending I'm telling u things cuz I didn't wanna text u and make u block me so I was just saying and saying things and spamming myself. He says: "Im not leaving. Im just sad and disappointed."

He is sad and disappointed, not me, he assaulted me, he lied to my friends about me. He was at the innovation awards while I was on a sidewalk trying to die, and at this moment he is sad and disappointed, and I am begging him not to go.

- I was sad and disappointed because she had told 5 people about our encounter, something I had asked her not to talk about.
- I had left the awards early as the loud noises were giving me a headache, and was not aware of her current situation.

I tell him he has every right to be sad. That I have been reflecting. That I will keep working on myself. That I never want to be like this to him again. I tell him to get some sleep before his update launch, that he went through too much too fast.

Sept 11, 2025, 9:58 AM. I validate his disappointment and make sure he rests before his game launch.

I want to note what is happening in these two screenshots. He opened by saying he misses me and I was soft. I responded by apologizing for everything, listing my failures, begging him not to block me. He responded by being sad and disappointed. I responded by making sure he was okay before his game release. I am the one who almost died. And I am managing his feelings about his Roblox update.

- I did miss her. I missed her so much. She was such a nice person to be around, and I loved being with her. But I was still realistic about our geographical issues.
- I did not have time to talk with Ren, as I was currently under extreme crunch to publish our upcoming “Operation: Heartburn” update, which was part of an official ROBLOX event. As RDC had put us behind schedule, I was under a lot of stress to meet a very short deadline.

Zeal sends me a photo of a bunny with another animal. His response to everything I just told him: "You dont deserve this cruelty." I reply: "Zeal u genuinely were the only person who understood me. I can't believe what I did to u and how I betrayed you."

Sept 11, 2025, 5:33 PM. Zeal responds to news of my suicide attempt being mocked with a bunny photo and: "You dont deserve this cruelty." I respond by apologizing to him.

I had just told him someone was mocking my suicide attempt. His response is a bunny photo and a reassurance. And my response to that is to apologize to him. Again. For betraying him. I am the one who almost died. I am the one being publicly mocked. And I am apologizing to the man who assaulted me.

- Once again, I was under extreme crunch and thus, didn't have time to comfort/console Ren. I sent the bunny picture because I thought it was cute, and that it would cheer her up.

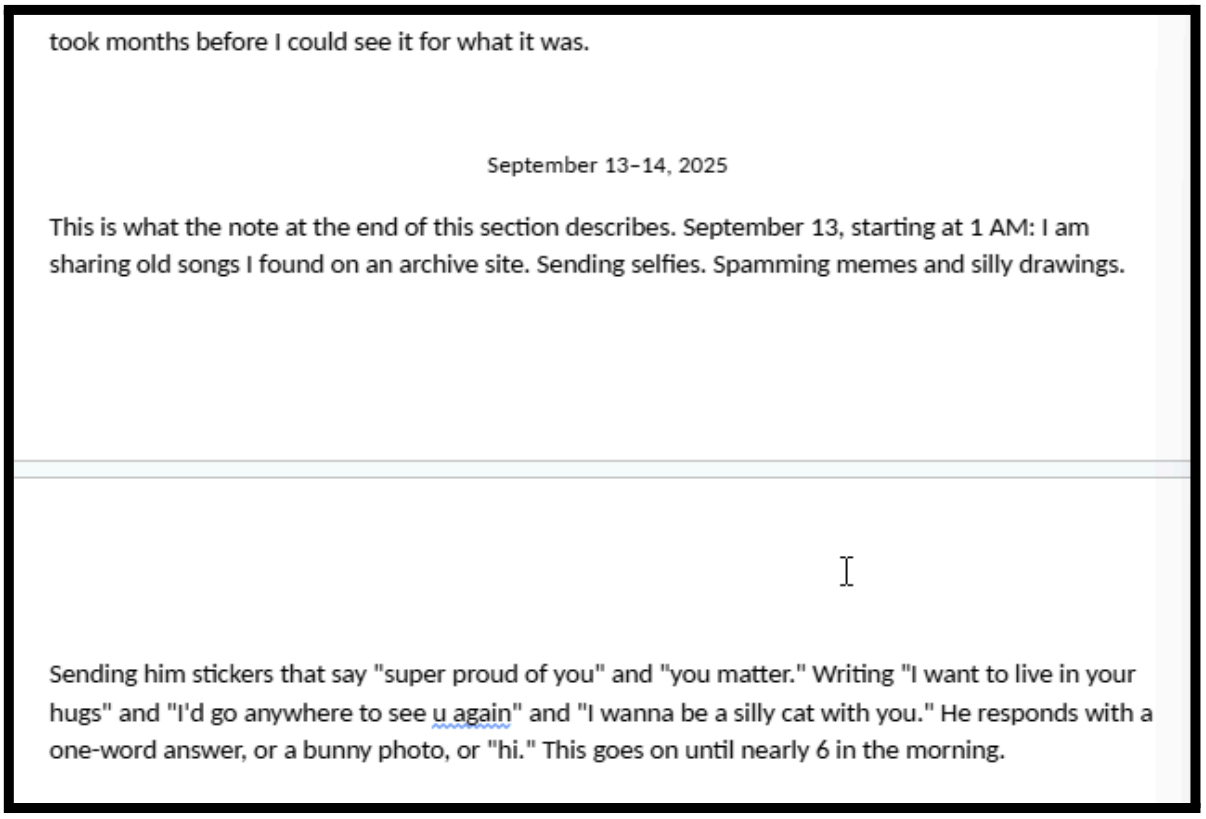
Busy with work



took months before I could see it for what it was.

September 13–14, 2025

This is what the note at the end of this section describes. September 13, starting at 1 AM: I am sharing old songs I found on an archive site. Sending selfies. Spamming memes and silly drawings.

Sending him stickers that say "super proud of you" and "you matter." Writing "I want to live in your hugs" and "I'd go anywhere to see u again" and "I wanna be a silly cat with you." He responds with a one-word answer, or a bunny photo, or "hi." This goes on until nearly 6 in the morning.

- After another game in the event broke the event systems, I was in crisis mode trying to figure out what was wrong. It was update day, and there were plenty of bugs. I did not have the time to talk to Ren properly, as I was busy with work.

i know first hand

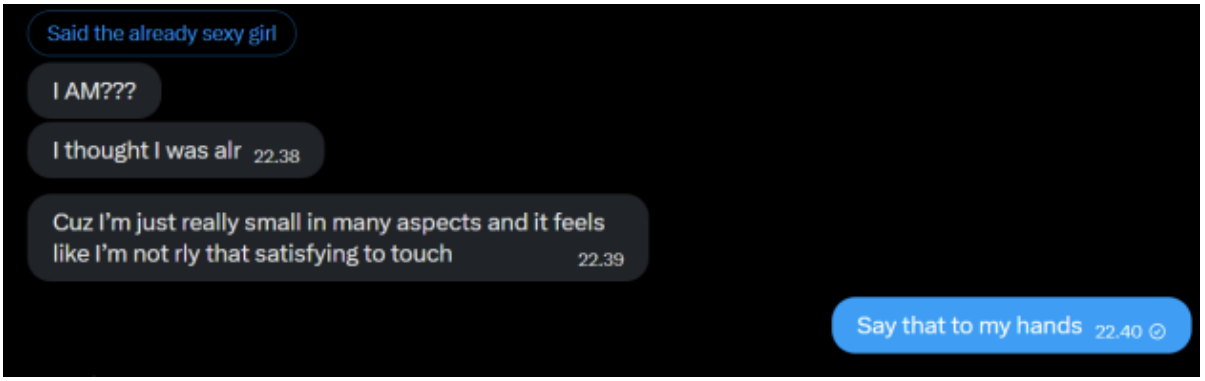
Sept 14, 2025, 2:46 AM. I tell him I'm hot, I just don't show it. He says: "i know first hand."

"I know first hand."

That is not a compliment. That is him reminding me that he has been there. That he has seen me. That he knows my body because of what happened at RDC. Fourteen days later, and he is casually deploying that as confirmation. Not tenderly. Not with any weight. Just: yes, I have the receipts, I know.

And I kept going. Because he said it like it was nothing, so I treated it like it was nothing. Because that is what we were doing at 2 AM.

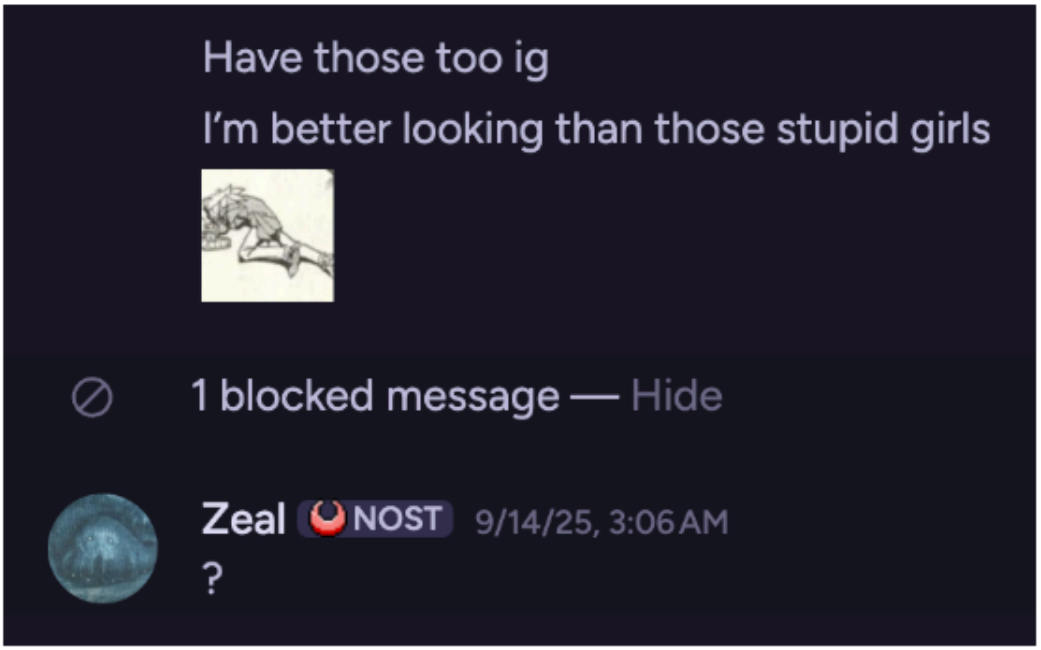
- It was a compliment.



Said the already sexy girl
I AM???
I thought I was alr 22.38
Cuz I'm just really small in many aspects and it feels like I'm not rly that satisfying to touch 22.39
Say that to my hands 22.40

Twitter conversation 17-25th September

September 14th, 2025



Sept 14, 2025, 3:06 AM. I tell him I'm better looking than the girls he showed me. He responds: "?"

He showed me two porn accounts in one night. And I spent the next hour trying to prove I was better than them. I said "I'm better looking than those stupid girls." I sent a meme. I was competing with accounts he had shown me, for attention from the person who showed them to me.

He said "?"

He did not even give me the win. He set up the comparison, watched me run toward it, and then acted confused when I arrived.

- I was confused by the emoji. I did not know what it was representing.
- It did not occur to me at the time that she wanted to be complimented. The emoji just knocked me out of it.

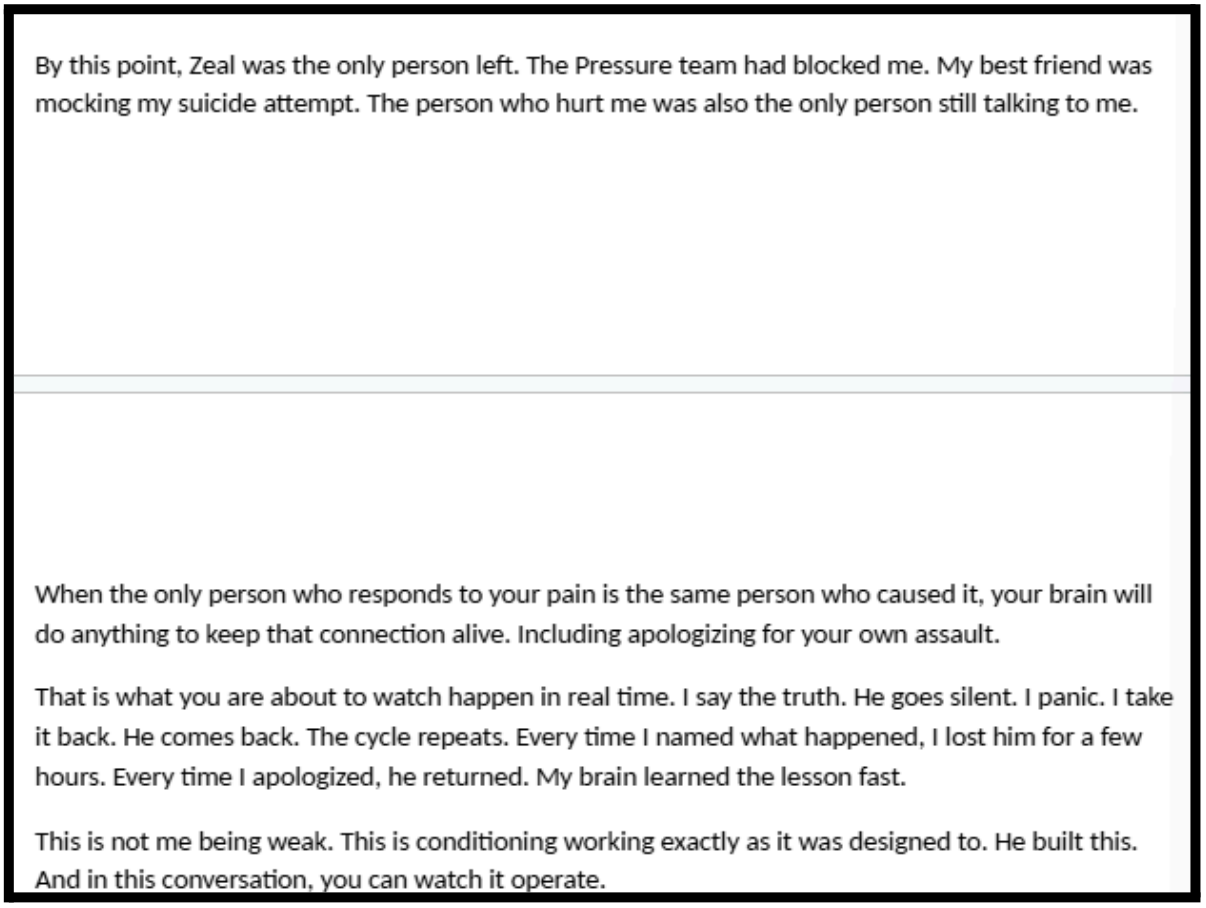
I asked if what I was reading sounded relatable to him. He said "meh? idk." I apologized. I told him I just wanted to understand him better, to care about him better. I called myself an old ass loser for reading books instead of just asking ChatGPT.

He said: "man idk how i work / i just rawdog this shit."

He was not interested in being understood. He was not curious about himself. He was not offering me anything to work with. I was doing all of the labor of making sense of him, and he met it with "meh."

And I apologized for trying.

- I just wasn't interested in talking about my mental struggles.



By this point, Zeal was the only person left. The Pressure team had blocked me. My best friend was mocking my suicide attempt. The person who hurt me was also the only person still talking to me.
When the only person who responds to your pain is the same person who caused it, your brain will do anything to keep that connection alive. Including apologizing for your own assault.
That is what you are about to watch happen in real time. I say the truth. He goes silent. I panic. I take it back. He comes back. The cycle repeats. Every time I named what happened, I lost him for a few hours. Every time I apologized, he returned. My brain learned the lesson fast.
This is not me being weak. This is conditioning working exactly as it was designed to. He built this. And in this conversation, you can watch it operate.

- It was a few days after update day, but I still had to be on to help fix bugs. At the time, I was managing around 50+ different people, getting things ready for upcoming content, hanging out, etc. I have an incredibly busy time schedule, and was thus unable to give her my full attention for the 9 hours she described.

Her real name

He has used the phrase "friends for five years" more than once. That is a fact.

On September 16, 2025, at 5:58 AM, I joked that he had probably forgotten my real name. He had. He said sorry. Six minutes later, he told me he had just come to my name. The name I gave him minutes before. Then he asked how old I was.

I want to be precise about what that sequence documents.

He sexually assaulted me on September 3, 2025. Before that, he spent months emotionally manipulating me: cycling warmth and withdrawal, collecting my physical measurements, planning what he would do to my body at RDC. He made me feel seen in ways that made me trust him. He used that trust in a hotel room I cannot unsee.

Thirteen days after the assault, he did not know my name. He did not know how old I was.

That is what five years of friendship looked like to him.

It has been seven months since September 3, 2025. He is still making his game. His platform has not removed him. He has not apologized to me. He has not reached out. He told people I harassed him at a convention and positioned himself as the one who needed protection.

He did not know my name. He never needed to. I was useful to him without it.

- I had indeed forgotten her real name, as I was so used to calling her Ren for the past 5 years.
- I knew we were around the same age, but I had forgotten specifically how old she was. It was a spur of the moment question.

Trying to reject her

Sept 16, 2025, 6:41-6:43 AM. Zeal says "gn." I follow with one more message: we have both survived hard things, and fearing this is stupid in comparison. "I need u to be more brave than this and I will be too."

I Comforted Him

Thirteen days after he sexually assaulted me, Zeal opened the conversation with an announcement: if we ever met up again, it could only be a one-time thing. I had not asked. He volunteered for it.

Over the next thirty minutes, I reassured him.

I told him we were young. That I did not expect the future to be figured out. That I would not depend on him for my stability. That he deserved love. That he was worth the risk to me, I told him not to shut the door early, I told him to be brave.

Then I said goodnight.

He said gn.

He had just told me I could only have him once. I spent thirty minutes making sure he was okay about it. I managed his feelings about what he had done to me.

He said “gn” and went to sleep.

- I had made it apparent to Ren the day after our hook up that I was not interested in a long distance relationship. I was starting to feel entrapped and sorry that I was leading Ren on with sexual and romantic comments, so I wanted to make it clear to her that we’d have to end it eventually.
- It felt like I wasn’t allowed to say “No”, or outright reject Ren, as I was afraid that her not being with someone romantically anymore would cause her to spiral and self harm again.
- I only said “gn” because the talk of travel, moving in, the future, etc, all this love talk was scaring me, and I just wanted to talk about something else/stop the conversation.

I named it directly: “all I am to you is just a body to fuck.” I said it plainly, without hedging. I connected what had happened at RDC to a pattern I recognized in myself ’ being used, allowing it, telling myself it was something else. I said I had woken up from a nightmare about it.

I also asked the question that mattered most, when he held me that night, was it because he loved me, or because he was expecting something from me? I said I could not meet him again if it was one-sided. I said I wanted love, not to be used.

It is the clearest I would be in this entire conversation.

Twelve minutes later, I walked it back.

Idk it scares me
REN ⚡NULL 9/16/25, 8:04 PM
oh nah
thats not what i meant

- It did not occur to me that Ren was interpreting everyhing as she just being “another body to fuck”. She was not that. Like I tried to explain to her, I was not ready for romantics, and all that it entailed.
- I held her that night because she had contacted me, and through what I had interpreted, it seemed like she needed to be comforted. I did not head over to comfort her with the goal of sex, but to try and comfort a long time friend.
- When I was holding her, I did not “love” her. I held her because she had come to me whilst in distress, and I wanted to help her.
- I kissed her because she asked me to.

The Apology and the Label

At 2:26 PM, twelve minutes after naming what he had done, I wrote: "It's fine though like. I'm not mad at u nor am I upset atp tbh. If anything I feel numb rn and kinda don't rly gaf. I deserve this for the shit I did."

He did not respond for over five hours.

When he resurfaced at 7:59 PM, he told me he was not ready for Love. He said we had been friends for years and it was weird going from friends to lovers. He framed what I had named as assault as a relationship transition he was not prepared for. He made himself the one who needed to be handled carefully.

- I do not recall why I didn't reply. I was likely taking care of something offline, or was too busy working.
- To me, it did feel like a transition from friends to lovers, and I was not ready for that.

I said I did not mind waiting.

Then I apologized, I called myself stupid. I said I genuinely did not have my feelings figured out about anything in life.

He had sexually assaulted me thirteen days earlier, I was now managing his discomfort about being loved too much.

At 8:11 PM, I told him I had never cried like that before. Not anywhere, not with anyone. That was true. I meant it.

But I also told him my brain was going in two directions. Either he held me because he loved me. Or he came to my room that night for other reasons. I did not know which one. I was going back and forth trying to make sense of what happened.

I was starting to understand something, though I did not have the name for it yet. I kept going back over what happened in that room. Trying to figure out his reasons. I was not calling it assault yet. But I was getting closer. This was part of the process of figuring it out. I was putting the pieces together in real time, in a conversation with the person who had done it to me.

Sept 16, 2025, 8:11-8:19 PM. I explain my fear of abandonment - that I started pushing for love so he would not disappear. I say the first time I did not feel scared was when he held me. "It felt like it was the first time someone genuinely gave a shit about me." I say I never cried the way I did in his arms.

- I came to Ren's room to comfort a friend who needed comforting.

I did it as a friend and it became more than that

Friends Do Not Do This

I told him clearly, more than once: friends do not carry someone to bed and hold them and breathe down their neck and wrap each other in blankets.

I told him that [X] and Cyborg were confused in that room. That they knew something was up. That I had many friends at that event and none of them had done what he did.

He said: Man idk.

He said: Man dude idkkk.

He said: I did it as a friend and it became more than that.

That last sentence is the closest he came to acknowledging what the holding was. He said it. He did it as a friend, and it became more than that. Then he moved on.

I kept explaining. He kept not knowing. I was carrying the weight of something he was unwilling to name. I gave him every opportunity to say it clearly. He responded with variations of idk until I stopped asking.

- I do not have any friends in real life, so I don't know what friends do and do not do.

BRUH im gonna slap u

Sept 16, 2025, 8:33-8:34 PM. Zeal: "Ren I love u but like / I dont Love you yet." Then: "To me, i was conforting a friend who was down in the dumps." Then: "It got a little zesty." I respond: "BRUH im gonna slap u."

- To me, I was truly comforting a friend who needed someone to hold.
- I was trying to lighten the load of rejection by making a joke.

He sexually assaulted me on September 3, 2025. On September 16, 2025, at 8:34 PM, he described it to me as: “It got zesty and we got naked.”

The word zesty is not an accident. It is a specific kind of erasure. The kind that sounds light-hearted, even funny, so that anyone reading it would feel they had misunderstood the gravity of what was being described. It reframes assault as mutual flirtation. It reframes a hotel room and a violation as something that simply happened to both of us equally, a thing that “got” a certain way on its own, without agency, without harm.

He had told me earlier that he was "comforting a friend who was down in the dumps.” He told me he does not have personal boundaries with friends, that anyone can slap his ass if they want. I asked if he would go around sleeping with other female friends, and his answer was: if they wanted.

I responded to “it got zesty” by saying I was going to slap him. I laughed at it. I did not know what else to do when the person who assaulted me turned it into a joke.

I then apologized for freaking him out.

“We got naked” is the second part of that sentence, and it does the same work. We did not get naked. He took my clothes off. His tongue was in my mouth and I could not think. I was nonverbal. I was out of it.

There was no moment where I made a choice about my clothing. No decision. No reach. Just him, and his hands, and me not present in any way that counted as participation.

The word “we” turns it into something mutual. A thing two people did together. That is not what happened. “We got naked” requires someone on my side of that sentence who was choosing. That person was not in that room.

- Yes, it was meant to be light hearted and funny in order to lessen the blow of me basically not wanting to be connected the ways that Ren wanted. (Future plans, long distance relationship, etc)
- I was not looking to settle down with anyone, nor looking for relationships. I saw our encounter as a FWB situation, where Ren wanted it to be more. I tried to establish boundaries that I was not interested in that kind of relationship, but she kept ignoring it.

The Terms

At 8:39 PM, Zeal laid out what he was offering:

"We can keep being friends, we can keep being freaky, u can keep masturbating to me if u want, we can fuck if we meet, etc."

He had just described the assault as getting zesty. He had just told me he did not Love me yet. Sex when convenient, no commitment. He was not ready for Love, but he was ready for this.

I responded by telling him I cared about him. I had bought a book on autism and relationships because I wanted to understand him. That other girls would not give two shits. I was still, at this moment, trying to be what he needed.

I accommodated the terms.

This conversation began thirteen days after he assaulted me. It ended with me accepting an arrangement that gave him everything he wanted and named none of what he had done.

Before he offered those terms, he told me I was thinking way too far ahead for him. I was not talking about settling. I was not talking about marriage. I was not planning a future he had never agreed to.

I was asking if we could give this a chance. Not forever. A chance. Like two adults who had been through something together and might want to figure out what it was. Responsibly. Carefully. Like grown people.

He turned that into too far ahead. Too much. As if wanting to date like an adult was the same as demanding everything immediately. As if asking to be considered was the same as asking to be chosen forever.

He was the one who held me all night. He was the one who said he would have liked to hold me forever. But me asking if we could just try, like grown people, properly, that was too far ahead.

Sept 16, 2025, 8:42-8:46 PM. I offer to help him understand people and relationships. He says he is good. I say I hope he does not get in trouble. He says he won't. At 8:46 PM I share sweet.mp3 - a song I was in the middle of writing when he started talking to me.

- I did not want a committed relationship with someone who was long distance.
- Ren talked about settling and marriage whilst in bed on the 5th. I was referring to that moment.
- Dating someone not in your country requires a lot of planning. Although I did not say that specifically in this comment, I was referring to the logistical, economical and mutual effort that was required in order to be in such a relationship. With everything having happened so fast, I had not had time to plan any of these.
- My comment about holding her forever was true, but that's it. It was just a "I would have liked". Just because I said that I would have liked to, does not mean that is something I would actually be able to do.

The song

The Song

At 8:46 PM, I shared a file: sweet.mp3.

I told him I had been making it when he started talking to me. It was mine, something I was writing, personal feelings and expression, not finished or mixed well. I was not giving it to him. I was showing him what I had been working on.

He misread it as a gift and told me gifts scared him. I corrected him: "No lmfao. I was writing this whennnn u started talking was finishing it up." He said he was getting a lot of mixed signals. I said it was fine.

Then he asked if he could have it for something. He just liked it. I said: "Just personal feelings and expression. Yeah sure."

He pinned it. Then told me it would be for Pressure.

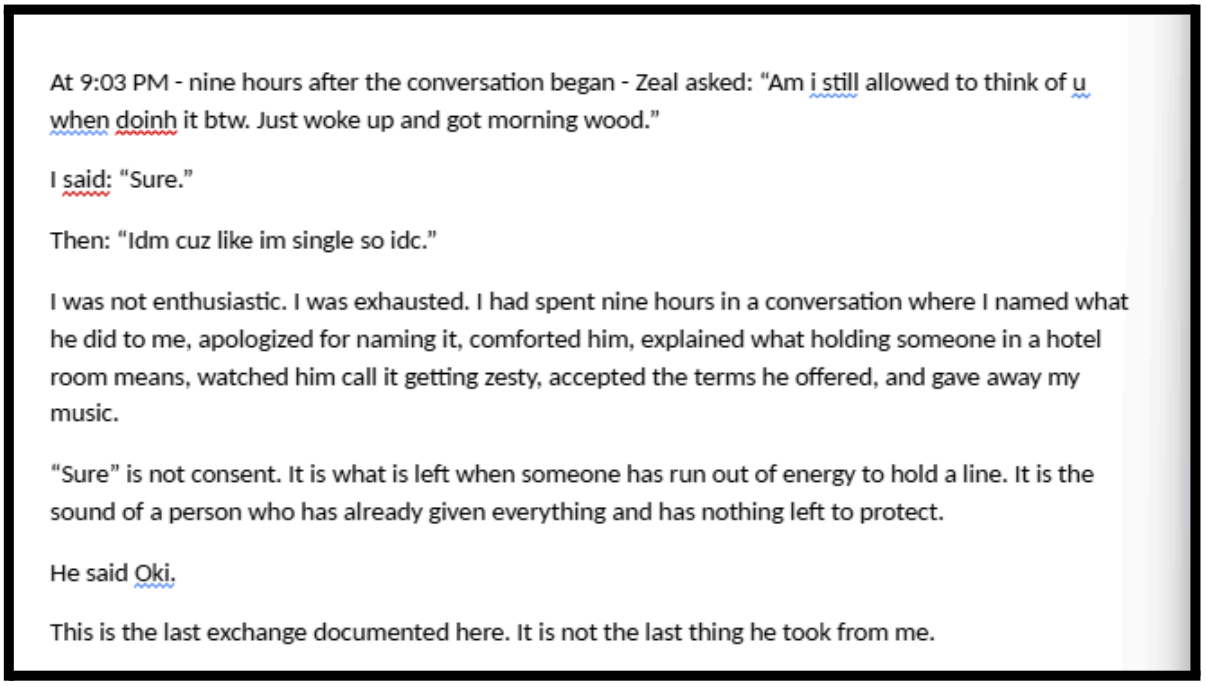
I said: "That's fine."

I had spent this entire day trying to make him understand what had happened between us. I had named the assault, walked it back, apologized, explained, watched him minimize it as getting zesty, accepted his terms. At the end of all of that, he took my creative work for his game.

I said that's fine.

Then he asked if I was okay with it. I said: —Idc." He said: —Hugs my ren."

- I thought the song sounded good, and wanted to add it as an Anticipation track.
- I have been in work mode for 6 years straight. As such, I saw the track as something work related. I simply thought that it was a good sounding song, and I wanted to add it to the game, as they had done many tracks that were similar in nature for the game previously.



At 9:03 PM - nine hours after the conversation began - Zeal asked: "Am i still allowed to think of u when doinh it btw. Just woke up and got morning wood."

I said: "Sure."

Then: "Idm cuz like im single so idc."

I was not enthusiastic. I was exhausted. I had spent nine hours in a conversation where I named what he did to me, apologized for naming it, comforted him, explained what holding someone in a hotel room means, watched him call it getting zesty, accepted the terms he offered, and gave away my music.

"Sure" is not consent. It is what is left when someone has run out of energy to hold a line. It is the sound of a person who has already given everything and has nothing left to protect.

He said Oki.

This is the last exchange documented here. It is not the last thing he took from me.

- Ren had told me that she thought about me whilst masturbating.
- Ren had told me to let her know whenever I was thinking of her, and I wanted to ask if I was still allowed to do this even after rejecting her offers of a long distance relationship, as I was still very much attracted to Ren as a person, and wanted to respect her boundaries.

I learned about her harassment of the team

On September 19th, Ren was contacted about a ROBLOX event opportunity to host her music on something called, "The Block".
[(*) Screenshots cannot be provided, these were in DM's with Ren.] I was not yet aware of what Ren had done to any of the others at RDC, and it was only when I talked about this opportunity to the other developers, that I was caught fully up to speed. I learned how deplorable to everyone else she had truly been. After learning all this, I obviously wanted to cut contact with her immediately, but I was also scared that if I did, she'd try and kill herself again. After talking about it with a friend, they suggested to employ the "Gray Rocking" tactic in order to distance myself from her in a way that wouldn't cause her to harm herself greatly, instead simply falling out peacefully, which I did. I should just be like a rock.

A list of some of the things that I was told she had done:

- Had harassed team members in person
- Had tore apart a sticker that she had asked for, then gloated about doing so
- Had followed the team group around even though it was making everyone uncomfortable
- Had harassed friends in DMs prior to RDC

Part of the strategy involved losing interest slowly, so I continued to talk with her, just less often.
I cared, and still do care for her, but that didn't mean I was willing to look past how horrible she had been acting towards my friends, and I truly never let the fact go that she had talked about our private matters behind my back. I only reconnected back on September 11 as I was scared that she'd hurt herself. I wouldn't have done so otherwise.

Events from June 2025 were brought up September 19

But I didn't leak it early did I
Two things are being held against me: That I guiltripped him into firing me, and that I leaked the soundtrack early. He never fired me. I quit on my own when I started losing it and feeling fed up. I never wanted to come back or work for Pressure again. This was a one time event that Roblox invited me to and I did not want to turn them down.
I denied the soundtrack accusation right there. He did not argue with the denial. He just kept going.
That is how this works. The accusation does not need to be true. It just needs to be in the story the team tells about you. Once it is in that story your denial does not erase it. It already did its job.
Kat put it in the story. The team remembered it. It is still being used against me since summer when I quit.

- Ren had, in fact, leaked it early.

yeah but rn i need a break
After hours of cataloguing exactly how burned my reputation is. After explaining every reason the team does not want me. After doing all of this at 4 AM.
It drained his social battery.
He said he still wanted to be around me but needed a break. I said of course, take all the time he needed. I said I hoped he could get a good night's sleep sometime.
I thanked him. I said I would do my best not to disappoint him again.
I said this to the person who had just spent four hours making me call myself a villain.

- At this point, I had been made aware of the things that Ren had done at RDC. I needed time to think, so I excused myself from the conversation.

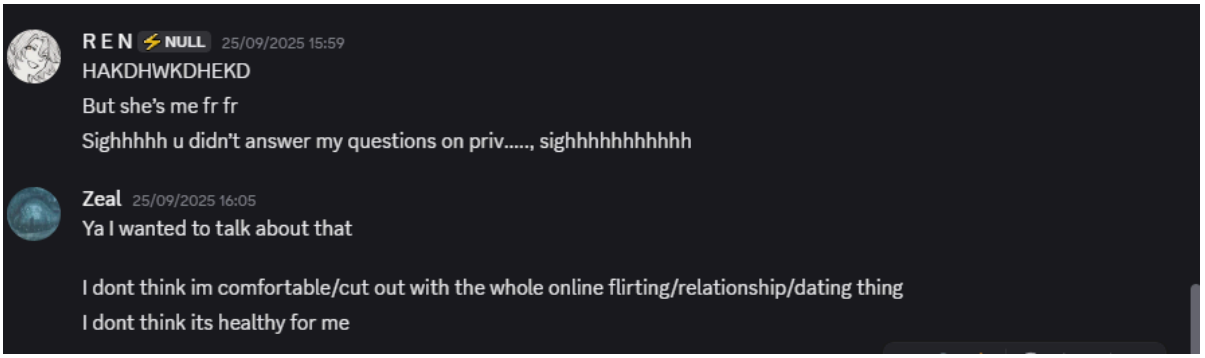
Our last communication

September 25

Twenty-two days after RDC. I had posted personal questions on my private Twitter a while back. Things like whether he thinks about me often, what his size was. They were just sitting there.

On this day, Zeal got on Discord and told me he was not comfortable with online flirting and dating anymore. He set his boundaries. Then he went to his private Twitter and started answering those exact questions. I told him to stop, and to not answer. You just set boundaries, why are you telling me this. He answered them anyway.



REN ⚡NULL 25/09/2025 15:59
HAKDHWKDHEKD
But she's me fr fr
Sighhhhh u didn't answer my questions on priv....., sighhhhhhhhhh
Zeal 25/09/2025 16:05
Ya I wanted to talk about that
I dont think im comfortable/cut out with the whole online flirting/relationship/dating thing
I dont think its healthy for me

- The questions can be seen at the bottom of our Twitter transcript

He does not want to date me because of distance. Not because of what he did. Not because he manipulated someone he met at a convention. Because I am not close enough geographically.

And then: 'U can continue to goon to me if u wish.' He had just told me he did not want a relationship. In the same message, he tells me I can keep being sexually attached to him. He is not ending the exploitation. He is ending the parts that require emotional effort from him while keeping the parts that serve him.

He wants to stay friends. He wants me to still be available to him physically. He is making sure I stay attached enough that the next time he sees me, I will still be there for him to use.

- I initially did not want to date her due to location, but I now no longer wanted to date her due to how horrible she had been to my friends.
- I was playing along with her questions to appease her.
- I was content with her removing my private account, which is why I did not argue back.

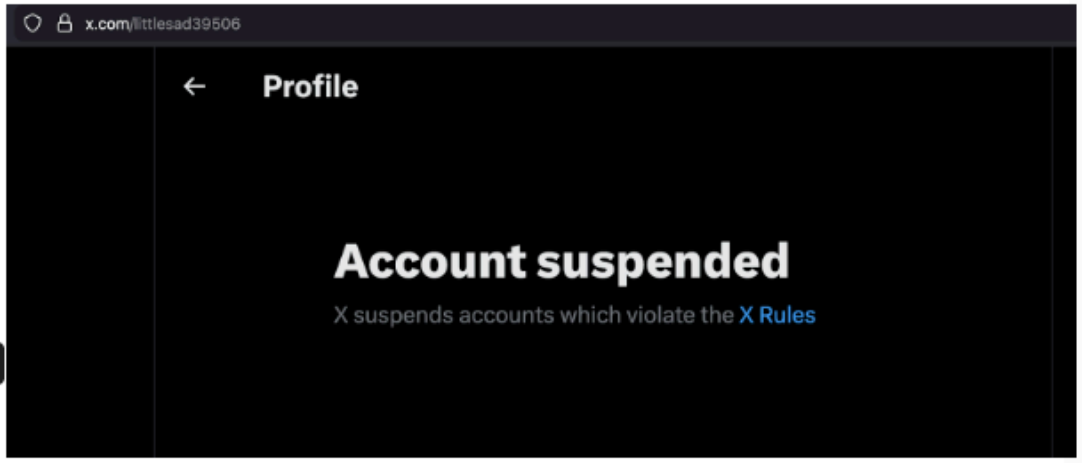
Twitter suspended

What He Did With That Access

When the fallout started, when things between us became something other than what he wanted them to be, he got my account suspended.

- After cutting Twitter contact on Sept 25th, I never interacted with Ren's private account again. I didn't even know that it had been suspended.

My private Twitter account, suspended.



While Zeal had not admitted it himself, my account was clean and I've had it for so long. There was no reason it could be suspended. The account I had told him was my secret. The one I said I was being very vulnerable sharing. The one I gave him access to because I trusted him. He used it against me. He reported it, or had it reported, and it was suspended. My voice, my archive, my access to my own history with him on that platform, gone.

I want to be very clear about the sequence here, because it tells you everything you need to know about how he operates.

He initiated the gooning conversation. He shared pornography, twice, without being asked. He escalated to sexting on that platform. And then, when it no longer served him to have me accessible, he had that account removed.

Every single step of this was his escalation. I showed him a romantic Twitter post about pet names. He sent me porn. We shared private accounts. He used that access until he did not want me to have a voice anymore, and then he took it away.

- I never reported her private twitter account.

As part of writing this document a family member has recorded our whole conversation thread. It was meant to be private and I would not share this conversation if I did not feel that it is necessary for clearing my name.

I Stood Up For Myself.

October 11, 2025 : The Last Conversation

Four days after the shitpost gif. I had been sitting with everything. Every deflection, every time I tried to talk about what he did and he turned it into something I was doing wrong.

This is the last conversation I ever had with him. I finally said what I had been trying to say. I confronted him about the assault, the double standards, the way he dismissed my pain as mood swings and treated my honesty as betrayal.

He did not hear me. He compared it to old arguments to make it smaller. He told me to go to sleep. He framed the server they exiled me from like I was upset about not being invited to play with the cool kids, when what I was desperately trying to tell him was that he sexually assaulted me and I needed there to be a real human in there somewhere. There was not.

I blocked him that night. I never unblocked.

- I was acting cold on purpose in this argument so that she would leave me be for good

Rumors, Reversal, and Smear

I'm including the following screenshots because they document rumors that were brought to me after the fact. I was told that people had been repeating a false claim that I was the one who sexually assaulted him. I am documenting what was said to me, who brought it to me, and what I was later told about where that accusation may have come from. Where I can't independently verify a claim, I'm saying so plainly.

In these screenshots, the person highlighted in blue is the one who brought this to my attention. The person highlighted in red is who they say told them. Kat is the person I was later told may have started or spread that false version of events. I don't know for certain that every step of that chain is accurate, and I'm not going to pretend I do, I'm showing what was told to me.

- I never claimed, nor do I know anyone who has claimed, that it was Ren who sexually assaulted me.

November 26th, 2025

The blue-redacted person reaches out to tell me what they'd been hearing. They say they were told I was the one who sexually assaulted Zeal. They tell me they didn't want to believe it.

REN NULL 11/26/25, 3:40 PM

For the longest time I've been told you were the one who sexually assaulted Zeal and I didn't want to believe them
REN NULL 11/26/25, 3:41 PM
What
The fuck
Tell me who it is

The conversation continues. The red-redacted person is named as the one who passed the claim along. I was told Kat was the person who started or spread that false version of what happened. I can't confirm every link in this chain myself, but I'm documenting what was said to me.

- Ren was banned from RDC because of her suicide scare.

To the Team

To The Team. Especially you. You know who you are. The way you manipulated everything, damaged my credibility behind closed doors, and then collectively agreed with each other that Zeal was right in what he did to me - that I am the villain of this whole story from before the sexual assault even happened, while we were working together on this game, says a lot about you as individuals, not me. My friends, family, coworkers, acquaintances, community and fans know me. I am not alone, like you attempted to make me believe I was. I am kind hearted. I am loved. Unfortunately, you did not know me, never wanted to, and now you never will.

- Ren had burned her relations with the team by her own actions.
- The majority of the team did not know about our relationship.

On Accountability

He thought my loyalty could be bought. That the money, the platform, the success of the game would be enough to keep me under his boot forever. For as long as I can remember, I lacked self respect. It was not until recently, through therapy, that I began to realize how much I am worth. It's never too late to wake up.

- When Ren quit, she did, to my knowledge, not have any other gigs or jobs lined up. I was simply trying to look out for her financially.

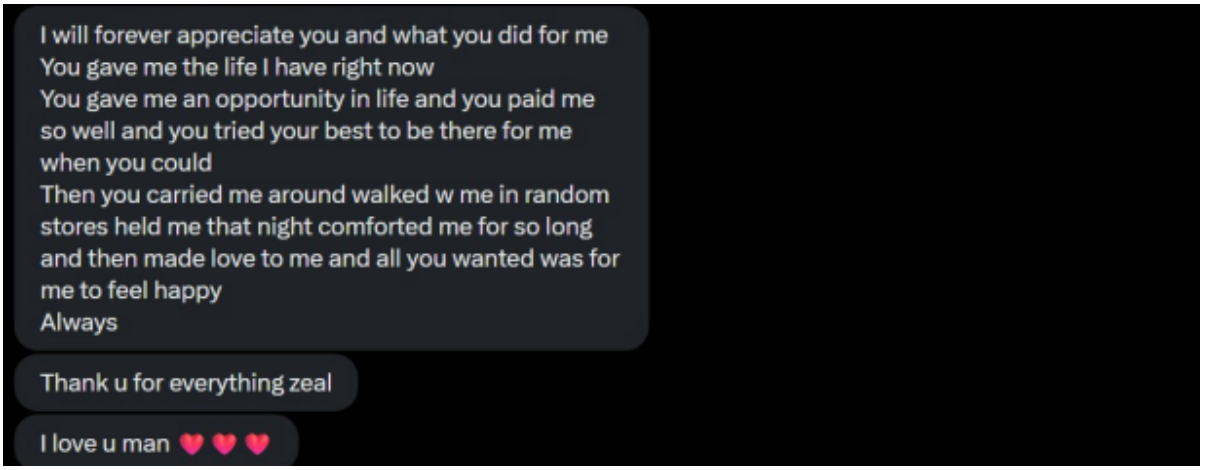
On flirting with other women

On the Soft Flirty Content : A Warning to Other Women

The animal videos, bunny memes, and "wanna do this" framing used with me are not unique to me. He sends the same content, the same videos, the same framing, to multiple women he works with.

- Because I think the videos are cute.
- Sometimes I share cute pictures of bunnies or cats with my friends and family both male and female.
- Ren is right. In this way, she is not getting special treatment.

Ren's perception of our relationship



I will forever appreciate you and what you did for me
You gave me the life I have right now
You gave me an opportunity in life and you paid me so well and you tried your best to be there for me when you could
Then you carried me around walked w me in random stores held me that night comforted me for so long and then made love to me and all you wanted was for me to feel happy
Always
Thank u for everything zeal
I love u man

Twitter conversation 17-25th September

I don't know why Ren has retroactively recalled her consent or has turned on me this way. I thought this was how things were between us.

Conclusion

Overall, the situation was complex and involved boundary and privacy breaches beyond the allegation Ren has posted. No other team members were involved in or supportive of the interaction, and they, too, struggled to navigate Ren's disclosures.

I recognize that I have not handled every part of this situation perfectly. I raised my voice at Ren when she streamed unreleased music publicly, and regretted reacting in anger. During the post-RDC period, I could have communicated more clearly and acted with more empathy. I allowed boundaries to blur in ways that were unhealthy, and I did not always respond to Ren's distress appropriately. For that, I am terribly sorry. I take responsibility for my actions and for any hurt they caused.

The relationship and interactions between Ren and me were complex and involved mutual decisions and continued communication. Based on my understanding, our intimacy was consensual and occurred within the context of a developing relationship. Allegations that I assaulted Ren do not match my experience or the text and voice messages exchanged immediately afterward and in the following month.

Consent given cannot be retracted 6 months later.

I do not share this context lightly. I respect Ren's right to process our interactions differently, and I recognize that her feelings may have changed over time. But I need to explain the full context.
